National, Local Labor Leaders Meet

featured speaker; and local central labor leaders: L. K. Emery, A. O. Boettcher and Kenneth Lewis. (Star Photo.)

Labor Speaker Blasts Curtis At 5th Annual Dinner Here

By Walt Switzer

National labor leader Al Barkan of Washington, D.C., volleyed frequent sharp jabs at Nebraska's Sen. Carl T. Curtis in a warm address to 400 state labor leaders and professional educators Tuesday evening.

Barkan, deputy director of the AFL-CIO Committee of Political Education, told those attending the 5th annual Lincoln Labor Banquet, "we are not the racketeers your Sen. Curtis would have you believe."

"I know that in the coming 1960 election," he said, "Sen. Curtis has every intention of running us through the mud... running against Jimmy Hoffa and Dave Beck... but I want you to remember what labor is and what it has done for this country."

Further expounding on the coming elections Barkan said:

"I'm sure Sen. Curtis will prefer not to talk about farm prices, inflation and the findings of the Anti-Monopoly Committee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver."

Also coming under his fire were Sen. Barry Goldwater, (R-Ariz.), the National Assn. of Manufacturers, the National Chamber of Commerce and the biased press of the United States.

'Look To History'

Citing these as the opponents of the organized labor movement along with management, he said, "if they think they can kill the labor movement they should look to history."

"We know it wasn't big hearted employers who gave us a decent wage and we know the working people of this nation won't let unions die."

Guests at the banquet were teachers and administrators of Lincoln's secondary schools and colleges.

State Education Commissioner Freeman Decker, master of ceremonies, urged the laborites to take a soul searching look into any failures by their children attending Lincoln's schools.

He said that as taxpayers of the community they should be proud of the schools in Lincoln.

Mayor Pat Boyles extending a welcome to the workers said, "labor has come a long way since its inception." Gov. Ralph G. Brooks also welcomed the laborers and educators briefly.

Dr. Carl Davidson, pastor of the First Methodist Church, delivered the invocation.

Former Teacher

Barkan, a graduate of Chicago University and a former Bayonne, N.J. high school instructor, noted that in the field of education "labor has always lead and aided the fight for tax supported public schools."

Focusing on some of the nation's problems he urged the people to remember that although the present administration fails to recognize our employment problem a brief look at the mining towns of West Virginia and Kentucky and the vacated textile towns of New England will show tens of thousands of unemployed workers living in poverty.

Opponents of labor were reminded by Barkan that at the present the organized labor movement represents the greatest single force in combatting the communist movement. He pointed with pride at the ouster of communists by the CIO.

Barkan closed with the hope that "our friends outside the movement will remember it is not the Hoffa's and the Beck's but your friends and neighbors who are the real labor union leaders."

Industry Extols Old Bid To Steel Rank And File ... Harsh Words Due From Ike

Washington (AP)—The steel industry disclosed Tuesday it is seeking employees' support for a union-rejected settlement offer made Nov. 15.

Industry negotiators said they expect to stand pat on the offer.

The Steelworkers Union said this means the employers are refusing to yield in government-sponsored bargaining sessions.

Government officials pass the word, meanwhile, that President Eisenhower is getting ready to blast both steel union and management for not settling their dispute.

The President is expected to do this in a radio-TV address to the nation Thursday night. But he may jump the gun at his news conference Wednesday.

Company-union talks, resuming here Tuesday for 2½ hours, broke up on a sour note without any progress.

Director Joseph F. Finnegan of the Federal Mediation Service arranged to meet separately Wednesday with the industry and union.

The industry said it is mailing circulars to employees entitled "Last Offer for Strike Settlement," detailing its rejected Nov. 15 settlement offer.

Bright Picture

Printed in red and black, the flyer extols wage and benefit gains it says the offer would provide.

David J. McDonald, Steelworkers president, charged the circulars represent a "propaganda gimmick." He said they are designed to confuse workers and to get them to vote approval of the offer in a National Labor Relations Board poll of employees due to take place in mid-January. Cooper challenged the propaganda gimmick label and said the industry will seek from now on to convince the union its offer is reasonable.

Figures Vary

He said the industry offer would mean a 30c an hour labor cost increase over a 3-year contract period.

McDonald said the value to employees was only about 22c an hour.

The union leader claimed, however, that steel workers actually stood to gain nothing under the industry proposal. He said the union will put out a 32-page analysis Wednesday.

WARMER TREND MAY WADDLE ACROSS STATE

A warming trend is expected to move across Nebraska Wednesday, raising temperatures into the 50s in the west and 40s in the east.

Partly cloudy skies but no precipitation is on tap for the state Wednesday. High winds and some light snow was reported in the state Tuesday and Tuesday night.

Norfolk had mixed snow and rain Tuesday with winds up to 30 m.p.h. Gusting winds up to 40 m.p.h. were reported at weather stations across the state.

Lincoln reported very light snow flurries Tuesday.

Weathermen are watching a cold front poised on the Canadian border which may bring polar air into the state by Thursday.

Tuesday's highs ranged from 46 at Scottsbluff to 34 at Norfolk. Lincoln recorded a high of 38 and a low of 32.

United States have about the same number of long range missiles and the number is "quite small" on both sides, McElroy said.

In Omaha, a spokesman for the Strategic Air Command said SAC's present goal is keeping one-third of the force on a ground alert around the world.

The spokesman said that SAC has tested the airborne concept and found it feasible if funds for such operation are granted.

He said that if Congress grants the funds asked by McElroy, the result for SAC would merely be an expansion of its alert program.

The idea of having bombers in the air so that (1) they cannot be destroyed on the ground by a missile shot, and (2) they will be ready to strike back instantly.

This was McElroy's final news conference as secretary of defense. Earlier in the day, the White House had made public his resignation from the cabinet post.

McElroy said that he would

Gates McElroy

wind up his government work Tuesday night, witness the swearing in of his successor, Thomas Sovereign Gates Jr., Wednesday and return to the Procter & Gamble Co. Dec. 8.

Drastic Changes

McElroy is returning to the soap business after 26 months at the helm of the Defense Department—a period which saw changes in military concepts more drastic than in any comparable period of U.S. History.

Gates, a Philadelphia investment banker in private life, recently has been serving as deputy secretary of defense after a previous stint as secretary of the Navy.

McElroy's resignation — which is effective immediately — was announced by the White House while he was sitting in at a meeting of the National Security Council, with Eisenhower presiding.

At that meeting of the country's top foreign-military policy group, Eisenhower conferred the Medal of Freedom on McElroy for "outstanding service to his country and dedication to his task."

A-BOMBERS ALOFT AT ALL TIMES URGED

Needed Funds Will Be Asked

...Gates Takes McElroy's Place

Washington (AP)—Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy said Tuesday congress will be asked for money so that nuclear bombers can be maintained on an airborne alert.

He told a news conference that this move toward keeping some bombers in the air at all times is in recognition that this country will lag behind the Russians in missiles for the next 3 years.

McElroy did not say the dollar amount to be asked of Congress. But he said the new defense budget contains requests for money to buy additional engines for B52 strategic bombers.

'Animal Hospitals Cut Mortality'—Veterinarians

By Glenn Kreuscher Staff Farm Writer

Animal hospitals are the modern means of lowering the mortality rate of Nebraska's livestock industry, according to visiting veterinarians attending the 63rd annual meeting of the Nebraska Veterinary Medical Assn. in Lincoln.

Dr. R. Nootz of Kearney termed the animal hospital "one of the best advancements in caring for livestock."

He reported that today with the advent of animal hospitals, caesarean sections, setting of broken legs and general livestock operations are routine practice.

"Formerly, many valuable animals were lost because we just didn't have the facilities to handle large livestock," explained Dr. Nootz.

Methods Discussed

Veterinarians at the annual meeting were discussing new methods, practices and drugs. Educational lectures were presented by leaders in the field of veterinary science to acquaint the practicing veterinarian with "what is new in the business."

Dr. Dave Potter of Friend, who heads the public relations committee, told of the work that many state veterinarians are doing in encouraging better livestock on the farm by giving prizes and trophies at their local fairs to 4-H and FFA winners.

A booth at the 1959 State fair supported by the State Veterinary Assn. in encouraging outstanding 4-H and FFA members to consider the veterinary profession as a future was reported as a success by the public relations committee.

'Need More'

"An increase in Nebraska's livestock population calls for more veterinarians and our best source of future veterinarians are the boys and girls that appreciate good livestock," said a member of the public relations committee.

Veterinarians attending the meeting from all sections of the state expressed interest in the farm program and prices received by the farmer.

"When the livestock man is making money it is profitable for the veterinarian — when prices skid and the margin of profit is close the farmer will often wait too long to call for help," one said.

The practice of close confinement for hog programs was cited as posing new problems for veterinarians, who explain that when livestock are handled in close quarters it means careful watching for disease which spreads fast under these conditions.

Open Bids On Piping For Hallam

$813,839 Is Low On Steam Gear

Lincoln Star Special

Columbus, Neb. — An apparent low base bid of $813,839 for power piping at CPPD's 100,000-kilowatt Sheldon Station conventional steam power plant was received Tuesday by Consumers Public Power District.

The contract covers fabrication and installation of turbine, boiler and related piping, according to W. P. Venable, CPPD superintendent of power supply.

Apparent low bidder was Wray M. Scott Co., of Omaha.

The plant, now under construction near Hallam, will be in operation in April of 1961.

Consumers has awarded 44 contracts for the dual steam and nuclear plant at a total value of more than $19.1 million.

Moving Generator

On the steam plant site, workmen are now moving the 100,000-kilowatt turbo-generator into place, putting metal siding on the boiler and turbine generator buildings and finishing construction of the utility building.

In addition, workmen are erecting coal-handling facilities and the cooling tower structure, and placing underground wiring.

Construction reports indicate that more than 13,500 cubic yards of concrete have been poured into the nuclear facility.

Construction of the huge reactor cavity liner is about 55% completed. X-ray testing of the liner is now underway. About 50% of the structural steel is in place on the nuclear project. Work is also underway on the sodium piping system enclosing the nuclear building.

Pact Gets Initial Nod From ILA

New York (AP)—A new waterfront contract was tentatively agreed to Tuesday by the International Longshoremen's Assn. It covers 70,000 dockers in Atlantic Coast ports.

Terms of the pact are retroactive to Oct. 1, when the old contract expired.

If ratified by the ILA membership, the new agreement would erase the threat of a strike Dec. 27 when a Taft-Hartley injunction against the union expires.

Patrick Connelly, executive vice president of the ILA, predicted the new contract "will be accepted by the men." It is expected to set a pattern for settlement of a contract deadlock in Gulf Coast ports.

A brief strike earlier in the fall was ended when President Eisenhower invoked the Taft-Hartley law and its 80-day cooling-off period.

41c Over 3 Years

In the tentative new contract, shippers offered the ILA a 41c an hour wage and benefits increase, spread over 3 years. The original ILA demand had been for a one-year package worth 40c.

Present basic wages average $2.80 an hour.

The toughest issue involved in the negotiations was that of automation. Shippers demanded the right to install labor-saving devices on the piers, while the ILA opposed these as endangering jobs.

Crash Kills 24 Persons Aboard Plane

Mountain Is Rammed By Airliner

From Press Reports

Montoursville, Pa. (AP) — A twin-engine airliner swung away from the airport after trying an instrument approach Tuesday and rammed a 1,400-foot mountain in a snowstorm. Twenty-five of the 26 aboard were killed.

Louis Matarazzo, a passenger, was the lone survivor of the Allegheny Airlines flight. "The Lord opened my side of the plane and I was able to jump out," he said from his hospital bed in nearby Williamsport. "I fought my way through flames, past the wreckage."

Toll Jumps 1

For hours the airline believed there were 25 aboard, but late Tuesday night it said a 26-year-old co-pilot came aboard as a passenger in Philadelphia but had not been on the list of those on the plane.

Allegheny had carried passengers since 1949 without a fatality. This was the 11th crash involving U.S. commercial airliners this year, and the death toll of 25 raised the total in such accidents to 311 in 1959.

The Pennsylvania crash was startlingly similar to one last month near Charlottesville, Va., when a two-engine Piedmont airliner also slammed into a mountainside, killing 26 of its 27 persons aboard. The Piedmont, like the Allegheny airliner, was trying to land in poor weather. For both airlines it was the first fatal crash. Ernest Phillip Bradley, 33, was only survivor of the Piedmont crash.

Nose Cone Camera Is Lost At Sea

... Thor Missile

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP) — A movie camera soared 300 miles into space Tuesday in the nose cone of a Thor missile, but was lost at sea with perhaps the first high-altitude color pictures of the earth.

Recovery ships and planes gave up a search for the camera after hunting nearly two hours in waters off the West Indies island of Antigua.

It was learned the Thor dropped its camera-carrying capsule slightly short of the intended impact area, making recovery difficult.

The search craft sped to the actual drop area, but could find no trace of the 18-inch spherical capsule. It is presumed to have sunk in the Atlantic.

The Air Force said the flight was primarily a test of the intermediate range Thor over a 1,500-mile course. The camera was a secondary experiment.

Wright Gets City's New Library Post

An assistant director has been appointed for the Lincoln City Libraries, Board President George Holyoke announced Tuesday.

Wright

Donald E. Wright of Lincoln, was appointed and will assume his duties in January, according to Holyoke. Wright will be the first assistant director in the history of Lincoln City Libraries.

Wright is currently a traveling library consultant for the Nebraska Public Library Commission. Library Director Charles Dalrymple said Wright has worked out of Lincoln for the past year and a half and is familiar with public library work throughout the state. His salary at the new post will be $6,200 annually.

Dalrymple said that Wright's full duties were not completed as yet and would not be completely described until after Wright takes over the job on Jan. 1. He added that the job would be in the public services division.

'Relieve Load'

"In making this appointment, we plan to accomplish more effective distribution of professional tasks and assignments, relieving the load that has been handled during the past several years by a short staff," Dalrymple said.

The post of children's librarian, vacant for several years, still has not been filled, according to Dalrymple. Wright's addition, he said, should result in a more effective children's service program.

The library board also believed that Dalrymple will have to spend more time and efforts in programming for future city library use and exploration of the new main library facility now being proposed again.

Wright is married and is originally from Colorado. He received his Master's Degree in Library Science from the University of Denver in 1953.

Sheriff's Office Telephone Part Of Sunday's Switch

The Police Department is not the only local law enforcement agency which will have a completely new phone number starting Sunday.

The County Sheriff's office number in the Courthouse also will be entirely different.

At present the Sheriff's office is reached by dialing the Courthouse number, 7-3721, and asking the switchboard operator for the sheriff.

But Sheriff Merle Karnopp said his new office number will be HE 2-3294. This number will bypass the Courthouse switchboard, which will be changed to GR 7-3721.

Karnopp said he requested a separate number to eliminate calls on Sundays and holidays to the county jail by persons wishing to talk with other Courthouse offices. At present when the switchboard is not manned all incoming calls go to the county jail.

The Police Dept.'s new number will be HE 5-4000. Its present number is 2-2841.

The Fire Dept. will add HE to its present 2-2222 number. The Safety Patrol's 7-3951 will become GR 7-3951.

Shelving Of B70 Is Ordered

... By Air Force

Washington (AP) — The B70 heavy bomber program, on which a half-billion dollars has been spent, was practically eliminated Tuesday by the Air Force.

Instead of going ahead with plans to build the big bomber as a replacement for the present B52s, the Air Force said it is going to turn out only one or two test models of the B70, which is designed to fly 3 times the speed of sound.

A desire to cut defense costs and the development of intercontinental ballistic missiles were seen as major causes of the Air Force's decision.

The cutback hits several major aircraft companies and electronics firms.

The Air Force estimated it would save about $5 million dollars in next year's budget by trimming the B70 program.

POLIO CASE REPORTED; TOTAL IS 132

The first polio case in three weeks was reported Tuesday by the State Health Department.

The case was a delayed report from Omaha. A six-year-old boy with no Salk shots contacted non-paralytic polio.

The case brought to 132 the number this year compared to 34 at this time last year.

The department said a nine-year-old Valley County boy became the 20th diphtheria case this year. There were 10 cases at this time last year.

Two rabid skunks were reported from Garfield County bringing the number of animal rabies cases this year to 48 as compared to 35 last year.

Council, Board To Air Bond Issue Priorities

By Virgil Falloon

The City Council and County Board are to meet Monday morning to discuss possible priority-determining procedures for the various bond issues being proposed for the 1960 ballot.

Chief officers from each of the boards or authorities considering bond issues are being asked to attend the joint meeting of the two governing bodies.

Mayor Pat Boyles and Board Chairman Rollin Bailey jointly announced Tuesday that the meeting is being scheduled for 9 a.m. Monday at City Hall.

Officially being invited are a representative from the City-County Building Authority, City Park and Recreation Board, City Library Board, Lincoln Airport Authority, Salt-Wahoo Watershed Association, and the Lincoln Board of Education.

Talk Plans

"We want the opportunity to discuss with the representatives the plans and feelings of their groups," the mayor said.

Mayor Boyles said interested civic organizations like the Chamber of Commerce and Downtown Development Corp. of Lincoln may sit in on the meeting as observers.

"It will be an open meeting, but first we want the chance to officially discuss some of the problems with the various boards involved."

$20 Million

Mayor Boyles noted that the various proposed or suggested bond issues or other special issues are estimated to total some $20 million.

Both governmental and civic leaders have expressed concern for the success of any if some sort of timetable or priority plan is not developed for their presentation to the voters.

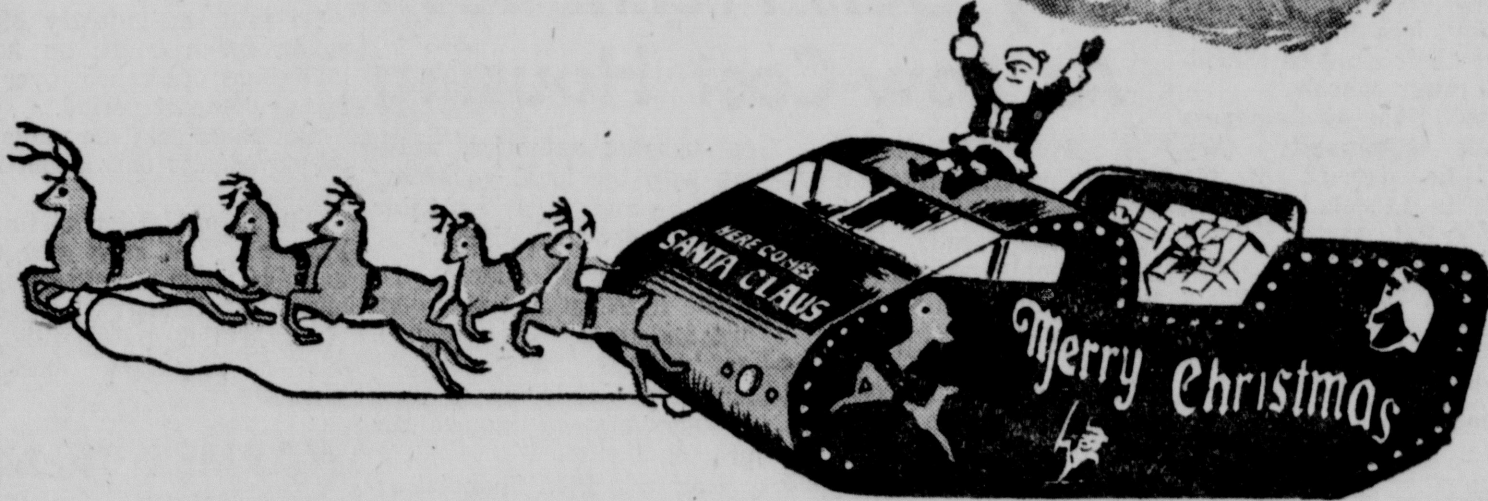

Bailey commented that all of the proposed improvements are worthwhile projects, but expressed fear that if they all were lumped together on one ballot they all would be voted down as happened in 1956.

Sex Criminal Harlan Noble Goes Behind State Prison Bars For Life

By Del Harding
Lancaster District Judge Paul White sentenced sex criminal Harlan Lynn Noble to prison terms of 20 years and life imprisonment Tuesday, and recommended that "under no circumstances or conditions" should Noble ever be paroled.

Judge White told Noble that a study of his 30-year criminal record had convinced him that "you should never have your freedom."

Judge White ordered that a copy of the pre-sentence investigation made by Adult Probation Officer Paul Beave be forwarded to State Penitentiary officials "lest the opinion of this court and the circumstances of your case be forgotten."

Noble, 47, had pleaded guilty Nov. 24 to charges of kidnapping, sodomy and being an habitual criminal in connection with the Aug. 1 attack of 6-year-old Theresa Dowding, formerly of Lincoln.

20, Then Life
Judge White sentenced him to 20 years in prison on the sodomy charge and then sentenced him to life imprisonment on the kidnapping charge. He ordered that the life term begin upon expiration of the 20-year sentence.

Judge White later explained that the habitual criminal charge does not carry a separate prison term, but when a person is found to have been convicted of 3 felony charges he is deemed an habitual criminal. As such he may receive a 20-year sentence on an offense which otherwise would carry a lesser penalty.

But because the maximum sodomy penalty is also 20 years the habitual criminal finding in this case had no effect on sentencing.

Noble had originally pleaded innocent in District Court to a kidnapping charge which carried a possible death penalty upon conviction and to charges of forcible rape and sodomy.

But County Atty. Elmer Scheele last week reduced the kidnapping charge to delete an allegation that Noble harmed or threatened to harm the Dowding girl, thus making the charge punishable by mandatory life imprisonment. Scheele also amended the rape charge to the habitual criminal count.

At that time Scheele noted that a Nebraska jury has never fixed the death penalty for a kidnaper, and said the probable result of a trial would have been a life prison term for Noble.

Scheele also said Theresa's family has moved to Oklahoma and was "extremely reluctant" to return here to testify at a trial.

'Permanent' Damage
Scheele said he also had been advised by the child's doctor that it might cause her "permanent psychological damage" if she were forced to testify in court.

Noble, who has a long record of sex offenses against children ranging from rape to sodomy, had been sentenced to life imprisonment in Kansas in 1952 after being deemed an habitual criminal there following another child assault. But he was later transferred to a mental hospital at Larned, Kan., and he escaped June 2.

Theresa was snatched from her bed, carried off, assaulted and then released late the night of Aug. 1.

Police have since found Noble left Lincoln 3 days later. The day after he left, police discovered he had been in Lincoln and he was charged with the crime.

Noble was captured Sept. 12 in Milwaukee, Wis., and was returned to Lincoln. He had been held at the State Penitentiary since his return here.

Nearly $1.5 Million Uncovered To Tax

Special Assessors Net $38,000 By Unearthing Unlisted Property

Two special deputy county assessors examining personal property tax returns of local business firms have added $1,427,425 worth of merchandise to the county's tax rolls since July 16, County Assessor Arthur Davis said Tuesday.

Davis said the work of deputy assessors George Keim and Harold Turner has brought in an additional $38,748.97 in city and county personal property taxes.

Keim, and Turner (a former FBI agent) were hired early this year to check business personal property inventories for accuracy.

Of the $38,748.97 a total of $8,642 was assessed in penalties for failure to list merchandise on tax returns.

3 Car Dealers
Davis replied in answer to a question from The Star that $19,825.34 of the total additional tax revenue was from 8 Lincoln new car dealers (who submitted supplemental tax schedules after their books were examined).

Davis also announced 8 of 17 firms which had been asked to submit supplemental tax returns by Dec. 1 have done so. If the other 9 firms do not do so by next week he said he will take the matter before the County Board of Equalization.

Involved are 17 mercantile, manufacturing and construction firms, Davis said.

Trailer Court Told To Better Sewage Treatment System

The operator of the Air Base Trailer Court at 2645 Air Base Road has been ordered to correct alleged deficiencies in its sewage treatment system within 30 days.

County Commissioner Kenneth Bourne said Tuesday that the order was contained in a letter mailed to court operator Homer Leland by City-County Health Dept. Sanitation Director L. A. Sanger.

Bourne said if the sewer system is not corrected as ordered he will discuss possible legal action against the court with the county attorney's office.

Bourne noted the court had been asked to take corrective action by Sept. 15 but had been given additional time.

From Murder To White Lines, Police Report Has Them All

If you are a person who enjoys reading statistics, the 1958 annual report of the Lincoln Police Dept. should be on your required reading list.

The 70-page report, released Tuesday, contains information varying from how many murders were committed in the city in 1958 (6) to how many feet of white lines the department painted on city streets (523,350).

The city showed an 8% rise during the year in criminal activity, according to Chief Joe Carroll. He said this is in line with the national picture.

The 6 murders during the year—probably an all-time high—were all committed during the Charles Starkweather-Caril Fugate murder spree in January, 1958.

Got Awards
The city received awards from the National Safety Council and the International Assn. of Chiefs of Police for its traffic supervision and accident records programs during 1958.

The report showed the average daily "take" at the city's parking violations bureau was $274.22 or about $2 over the 1957 daily average. Parking violators paid a total of $84,186 in fines to the bureau.

The department's juvenile bureau, headed by Lt. Gail Gade, reported 1,265 boys and 222 girls were contacted by officers during the year.

Of these 365 youths (295 boys and 70 girls) were referred to the County Juvenile Probation Office.

Of the 365 referrals 124 youths (88 boys and 36 girls) were taken into Juvenile Court.

62 Delinquent
Fifty-three boys and 9 girls were found delinquent by the juvenile judge. Eleven of the boys and 8 of the girls were committed to institutions.

Other highlights and side-lights of the report.
—121 cars valued at $116,020 were stolen but all except 4 cars were recovered.

—the department now has 42,808 sets of criminal fingerprints and 26,978 criminal photos on file.

—vandalism and property damage totaled $29,213.67 and $15,675.11 of this damage was not cleared by arrests.

—363 cases of bad checks involving $11,847.79 were investigated and 262 cases involving 92 individuals and $8,195.86 were cleared by arrests.

—a total of 62.93 miles of city streets now have some sort of restricted parking (meters, time restriction, red lines, etc.)

What Is Humane?

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

In discussing enforcement of the city's dog leash law, Humane Society Superintendent Harold Deacon made a point which is becoming almost lost in this day of modern living. Facing criticism for the lack of prosecution in leash law violations, Deacon noted that such prosecutions are not always humane. And the thing that is sometimes forgotten is that the Humane Society's primary function is to work for humane treatment of animals.

Deacon reported that prosecutions are not asked by his department except in cases of third offenses. Sometimes, he noted, prosecution would result in a child being deprived of a dog. Basically, the leash law is considered humane legislation because its ultimate purpose is to improve the life of the dog. It takes a little shady reasoning to come to this conclusion but such reasoning is possible. However, when a dog is picked up for running loose and prosecution is made on the offense, the episode is likely to be a costly one for the dog owner. Under such circumstances, a family might decide the keeping of the pet is too expensive a proposition.

This is when a child could be deprived of his dog. The dog then becomes a ward of the Society shelter house and in 99 cases out of 100 the animal will end up being put to sleep. Is this whole process humane? Is it possible that the City Council has forgotten the humane aspects of things in ordering all violations prosecuted?

The Humane Society in Lincoln is a part of a national organization founded years ago to stop brutal treatment of children and animals. While it has succeeded in this, it faces today a situation which, in many respects, is even more dangerous to its cause.

The situation today is one of possible extinction of the dog. This is not as radical as it might sound. If conditions relating to ownership of a dog become too unbearable, the logical result is an avoidance of such ownership. This is being accomplished through such things as the leash law and compulsory rabies vaccination. No one is attempting to deny the other side of the picture—the side presented by the individual who wants and has a right to be protected against abuse from the privilege of another's dog ownership.

But this is the side which is preeminent in Lincoln at this time. This isn't the place to tell, now, a tear-jerking story of man's best friend but it is a fact that there is a very fine place in the world for dogs and a great deal to be gained from their existence. They offer companionship that is unequalled for those who seek it. They are a comfort and joy to young and old alike.

And a youngster who has a dog can derive more good training through this experience than many people get in an entire lifetime. In all, prosecution of each and every violation of the leash law seems like a harsh decision by the City Council. There are any number of circumstances which might make prosecution entirely out of order. This matter would be much better if left to the discretion of Deacon but with the understanding that prosecution is one of the strongest points of enforcement.

And as to this final point of enforcement, it is the conviction of many that the Humane Society does an excellent job and the thought of others that it does even too good a job. The Society is even facetiously referred to sometimes as the "Inhumane Society" because of the vigor of its enforcement program. Certainly, it appreciates this tag no more than it appreciates unfair criticism.

The Lincoln organization has always been handicapped with a lack of funds. Its facilities are inadequate and always have been and only this past year has its equipment been brought up to any where near needed standards. It still lacks sufficient manpower. As forgotten as the purpose of the Society, too, is the difficulty of its task. Don't think for a moment that a dog owner cannot be just as irate and vehement as the person complaining about a dog. And don't think for a moment that the complainers lack their fair share of crackpots. Deacon has probably one of the most difficult jobs in the city as there is not a single thing he does that is approved by all parties concerned.

Yet, he is supposed to do it and achieve harmony and satisfaction among all groups. Deacon's job involves dumb animals whose behavior and actions are impossible to predict and human beings whose actions in dealing with him are erratic and uncompromising. In its criticism and orders, the City Council has probably created considerable ill will and has hatched for itself no small public relations problem for the future.

The applicant is not a UN member. It also provides security inspection that allows any member nation to inspect the installations of any other at its own instance. But more important, indeed, is the apparent fact of sufficient good faith that treaty violations will be self-sufficient.

It is also satisfying that the treaty endeavors to continue the co-operative spirit of the International Geophysical year, extending scientific assignments with the results an open record.

It is true that Antarctica is an unpeopled waste, thus far of doubtful economic value. Covenants of wholesale co-operation are easy there. But the fact that such a benign covenant occurred is evidence that the will for peaceful co-existence exists, that it did eliminate a valuable strategic asset in terms of warfare, and that an extension of this will to peace can and probably will expand.

They want to ignore the fact that we have any responsibility in guiding the destiny of millions of people who have dedicated themselves to the achievement of a place of dignity and respect among the rest of the world. Nor do they want to recognize the fact that there is not a nation in the world at this time which can stand alone against all the forces which are at work against it.

These are social, political and moral forces which are surging to the front in lands which have shaken off the yoke of ignorance, poverty and indifference. It is the purpose of foreign aid to encourage these forces as constructive elements in the process of man's elevation to a higher level of life and to guide their ultimate fruition into harmonious relationship with our own concepts of right and wrong. The President's action is encouraging and commendable.

It is better said of McElroy that he preserved the capability of American defense while pressing forward with the rolling demands of the space age, not unmindful, but obediently disciplined by budget limitations. Much of the work he initiated in missiles and rocketry will mature to the credit of successors.

Perhaps equal to the diligence and effect of McElroy as an administrator has been a quality of leadership and thrust that has kept a monumental defense program moving forward. For this Mr. McElroy is richly deserving of the Medal of Freedom which he has received from the hands of the President.

All of the present day television marshalls had better look to their reputations. After all, they fire blanks at badmen who work by the day.

They have been outgunned by a man with such an unchallenging name as Hogger Gudmunson. He is the Jersey Central engineer who bulldozed a loose engine that raced 22 miles down an open track at 40 miles an hour. And as a piece of drama it was strictly unrivaled. The loose engine was not interested in payola and apparently neither was Gudmunson.

Italy Ponders New U.S. Policy

ROME—At a long desk facing row after row of nearly empty seats in the Italian Chamber of Deputies sat a small, thin figure of a man. He was Antonio Segni, prime minister of Italy, and he sat alone.

Opposite him in the vast amphitheatre of Italian democracy sat a sprinkling of Christian Democrats who support Segni but, as I watched the debate, not many were present to do so.

On the right facing him were empty seats of monarchists, fascists, and the liberals with only one deputy present. But on the left, the seats reserved for Communists and socialist were almost full as their speakers criticized winter "relief payments" for the unemployed in Italy.

The prime minister of Italy sat there patiently. His thin face, eagle nose, and a collar too big for his neck gave him an almost bird-like appearance. He listened, said nothing. Behind him was a great bronze mural depicting the forces of Garibaldi which first brought democracy to Italy meeting the forces of King Victor Emmanuel in the first unification of Italian states in 1861. That democracy had been stopped dead by Mussolini when the present prime minister was a young leader in Catholic action. His political career had been suspended in midair during fascism; now he and other believers in democracy were working to make sure that the catastrophe of fascism—or communism—didn't come to Italy again.

That is why Segni sat so patiently listening to the socialist-communist debate.

Eventually Segni left the chamber debate to step outside and talk with me regarding the problems of Italy and the United States, some of which he'll discuss with President Eisenhower. He was guarded in his comments but, a few days earlier, he and Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis had agreed their chief problem was relaxation—and they didn't refer to relaxation on the beaches of the Riviera. They referred to the growing, gnawing fear on the part of European leaders that President Eisenhower is going to ask them to reverse the policy which the United States sold them, but now wants to unroll—the relaxation of the "cold war" with Russia.

For something more than 10 years the United States has pounded home the idea that communism would ruin the world, that the Italian communist party must be defeated, that Europe must contribute arms to the NATO alliance to combat the communist military threat. Now, suddenly, the leaders who bought this policy see the United States unselling it.

Butler Still In The Demo Driver's Seat

WASHINGTON — Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler has succeeded in bringing into the Democratic Advisory Council, either in person or by proxy, every presidential candidate and powerful party interest, including the South, except the congressional leaders, Speaker Sam Rayburn and Senator Lyndon Johnson.

This will be seen next week end in New York City where sessions of the council are being coordinated with a giant fund-raising dinner in honor of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Numerous social occasions may cloak but cannot conceal the struggle for power which Butler so far is winning hands down.

His success is basically due to his popularity with the state and local organizations, which have been winning so many remarkable victories. Their leaders are vigorous and ambitious; they hope to rise higher and shine even more brightly in a Democratic national administration.

They are not hostile to the Democratic congress and its Texas leaders; they like Rayburn and admire Johnson. But they discern no dividends from their control on Congress; their eyes are fixed on the White House. Hence the big New York parade from which the speaker and Johnson will be noticeably missing.

Both were invited at the start to join the council and refused. At the time they did not feel it could in any way minimize their own importance, as indeed it does not

MARQUIS CHILDS

Kennedy Ends Campaign Phase

WASHINGTON — Having traveled more than 100,000 miles in 20 states, eaten 173 lunches and dinners consisting of creamed chicken and green peas, speaking almost continuously for three months to public audiences, groups of politicians or at press conference, Senator John F. Kennedy is concluding this week the first phase of his presidential campaign.

Shortly after the first of the year he will make a formal announcement of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination. It will come as a surprise to practically no one, since the senator's intentions have been evident for at least a year and a half.

Kennedy's managers profess to be more than pleased with the results of his intensive tour. They point to press reports of enthusiasm and interest shown almost everywhere. And, above all, they cite Kennedy's rating in the polls, sustained at around 26 or 27 per cent, while his rivals, Senators Hubert Humphrey and Stuart Symington, have not moved out of the basement in spite of their own strenuous campaigning.

But nevertheless there is within the Kennedy camp an uneasy concern over the next phase. The front runner who has pushed his luck so hard can expect a banana peel somewhere. The opposition will concentrate on trying to throw him and a bad break could have sudden and perhaps disastrous consequences.

Some observers are saying that the birth-control issue, as raised by the Draper report and the statement of the Roman Catholic bishops in opposition to government support for efforts to damp down the population explosion by artificial birth prevention, has hurt Kennedy's chances. In an interview with James Reston of the New York Times, Kennedy, a Catholic, said he thought it would be a mistake for the United States to further such efforts in underdeveloped countries.

The report of a White House committee surveying foreign aid suggested that in many countries the population increase was outrunning the growth in production of food and fibers. Therefore, it was implied, without some restraint imposed on the zooming population conditions would get steadily worse rather than better, and foreign aid would be wasted. The question raised was whether the United States could, on request of a country receiving foreign aid, supply help in the attempt to hold down the birth rate.

Kennedy believes the question should be submitted not only to candidates who happen to be Catholics but to all presidential aspirants. Those to whom it has been put have either taken evasive action or have come out with masterful on-the-one-hand and on-the-other-hand statements.

The senator's managers insist that birth control will not be an issue; that it has never been an issue on the national level, and it is most unlikely to be brought into the campaign by way of the connection with foreign aid. This is true insofar as public discussion is concerned.

The question is likely to remain what the strategists call a sleeper—an area of doubt and uncertainty just below the surface of public debate. It raises a relationship that gives the Democrats, who have not forgotten the submerged prejudices of the Al Smith campaign, the nervous tremors. That is, the relationship between religion and public policy.

A sign of the Kennedy uneasiness is seen in the reaction in the Kennedy camp to a biography of the senator to appear early next year. The author, James MacGregor Burns, a professor of political science at Williams College, was given free access to Kennedy files and he is considered pro-Kennedy in Massachusetts politics.

Nevertheless, Kennedy and his managers are distinctly unhappy over the manuscript. They would like to make it, in their own phrase, "more accurate." Outsiders who have seen it feel that Burns has done a remarkably objective job which should, on balance, benefit the senator's candidacy.

With generous resources of money, supplied largely by his family, Kennedy will early in 1960 enter the second phase of his campaign. His intention is to go into presidential primaries in at least six, and perhaps 10, states. The states where he is uncertain are, as of now, Ohio, Wisconsin and California.

This will mean an even more intensive and grueling stretch than the candidate is now wending up. Next May he will be 43 years old. There are doubters who feel that he is too young and he even looks even younger than his age.

But, as Kennedy himself has observed, if the successful candidate must survive this kind of marathon he will have to be young.

How To Change

Lincoln, Neb.

I would like some answers about the two-house legislature we had in this state in the first place. Was the one-house legislature idea ever put to a vote of the people or not, or was it another trick by the GOP of this state to get a stronger stranglehold on the voters?

What would the procedure be to put the matter of changing to a two-house legislature up for a vote next election day?

Every voter I have talked to is against the one-house legislature and I agree 100 per cent. I don't think there is another state in the country that has it. That alone should speak for itself.

A. C.

Editor's note: The unicameral legislature was adopted by a constitutional amendment approved by the voters at the Nov. 6, 1934 election. The proposal was placed on the ballot by popular initiative. It was approved by a 286,086-to-193,152 vote.

The idea of changing to a one-house system in Nebraska began as far back as 1913. Official "father" of the unicameral was J. N. Norton, state representative from Polk, Nebraska, and later a national congressman. He served in the first session of the unicameral and wrote the rules which organized it.

In order to put the matter of returning to a two-house legislature on the 1960 general election ballot, the people would have to have an initiative petition for a constitutional amendment signed by 10 per cent of the state's valid electors.

Inquiries showing interest in our state legislative system have been received recently from Texas, Iowa, North Dakota, California, and Missouri.

The Public's Right

Dolton, Ill.

I consider newspaper editors far more enlightened than the average man on the street. I was, therefore, surprised by the "logic" you presented in your editorial in the November 3 issue of The Star entitled "The Railroads Gamble."

rules, to be true, but only to bring them up-to-date so that they will make economic sense when applied.

Next, you say the railroads "have refused to look at the plight of the employee who would be out of a job if management's program materialized." Here again you are assuming too much. If you will check into the situation, you will find this simply is not so. Under the Railroad Retirement Act, provisions for unemployment, railroad employees get more benefits, paid entirely by the railroads, than can be found in non-railroad industry. Finally, don't you think your statement could wait until it is finally determined to what extent the railroads would compensate employees they might lay off? That unquestionably would be part of any new agreement that might result between railroad management and labor.

And there's one other point that railroad labor unions never mention but which should not be forgotten by the press if it has the public's interests at heart. Railroad management several months ago begged the unions to agree to have President Eisenhower appoint an impartial group to look into this whole matter of featherbedding. The unions flatly said no. It is beside the point that the President turned down the railroads' request. What is important, if the unions say there is no featherbedding, is why they are so bitterly against the public's looking into this situation for itself. This attitude should be kept foremost in mind, because the public as a whole has a far greater stake in railroad transportation than either railroad labor or railroad management.

If the unions are going to act like the dog in the manger, afraid to let any third party look into their affairs, especially when the public is that third party, then I think it is time for the public to become highly suspicious. In fact, the time has come when the public should not wait to be invited to look into the matter—it should demand to have that right. So far, only railroad management has opened its doors to the public.

Berry Burial

Lincoln, Neb.

Mr. Briant (Nov. 28) missed the boat. Apparently the kind of spray he bought wasn't the kind the berry growers used. Theirs was the real sneaky kind. It did wither the bad and leave the good, but the good was blighted, not destroyed. It was rather like one rotten apple in the basket.

Anyhow, Thanksgiving is over. Government inspectors have stopped their testing and the FBI has been put back on normal duty. If their final decision comes to pass, there will be a mass burial of some 250,000 pounds of cranberries which have been found to be definitely contaminated and unfit for human consumption, though still brightly red and tempting, as so many things just waiting to lure one into their "joyous promise."

Thus the whole mess must be buried deep so it will die, not ferment into a new menace to rise again, even if the vintage must be trampled out where the grapes of wrath are stored.

NPPS To Again Push Sale Of 'Off-Peak' Power

The Nebraska Public Power System will renew its efforts to sell "off-peak energy" to the Bureau of Reclamation at a future meeting proposed by Secretary of Interior Fred Seaton, NPPS Executive Director Dewey DeBoer said Tuesday.

Seaton instructed bureau officials to confer with Nebraska power agencies on possible exchange of power after he approved a new federal power allocation formula for the Missouri River Basin.

Under the formula, preference customers in the eastern area of the basin will receive federal power allocations of approximately 83% of their estimated 1963 needs.

Affects 250 Preference customers are government agencies and cooperatives. Some 250 of them in Nebraska, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota and Montana are affected.

Nebraska, with a summer power peak and a winter surplus, has long recommended some type of exchange with the bureau.

At the proposed meeting, DeBoer said, "we will offer to sell off-peak energy on nights, holidays and weekends, and particularly in the winter."

"We've got plenty," he pointed out, except in July and August, the summer months of peak load. Irrigation and air conditioning are factors in the heavy summer load.

"We will be happy," DeBoer said, "to work out something mutually advantageous. We have problems. But, we can work them out."

DeBoer described the recommended meeting as "a saving factor" in the Department of Interior power allocation announcement.

"It looks like the allocation is not any different than that proposed a year ago this February," DeBoer noted.

"Nor Happy"

"We weren't happy then and we aren't happy now."

The formula was recommended by a special consulting board.

The board also proposed a Bureau-NPPS study of possible exchange of excess federal summer power for excess NPPS winter power.

Existing commitments preclude such an arrangement from being effective until about 1967, the board noted.

However, Seaton directed that steps be explored toward the possibility of contract adjustments to permit the exchange of power earlier than 1967.

Nebraska's new power allotment will be 226,960 kilowatts. Under the 1954 formula—now in use—the state received 115,200 kilowatts.

Injuries Slight As Car Rolls Over

Two Lincoln teenagers escaped serious injury Tuesday after the car in which they were riding rolled over during a two-car collision at 12th and High.

Martha R. Godwin, 17, and her sister Marlene A. Godwin, 15, both of 3615 So. 15th, were treated and released from Lincoln General Hospital.

They were passengers in a car driven by their father, Roy Godwin, 40, which was in collision with a car driven by Lyle D. Hurt, 21, of 2902 So. 13th, police said.

Hurt told police his accelerator stuck while approaching the intersection and he could not turn the ignition off in time to avoid the accident.

F. E. Poore, Area Stock Buyer, Dies

Frank E. Poore, 89, of 2034 So. 31, died at his home Tuesday night.

A farmer in Seward and Lancaster counties most of his life, Mr. Poore was a prominent stock buyer at Malcolm for some 25 years.

He is survived by his wife, Nora, a son, Frank Reed Poore of Lincoln and 2 grandsons.

'No Real Losses Due To Bypass,' Wewee Advises

DeWitt Wewee, right-of-way consultant with the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, told members of the Lincoln Rotary Club that cities that are bypassed by the Interstate Highway do not suffer great losses or retail trade.

On the contrary, he said, some show increases because of less congestion in downtown areas.

Wewee said the highway was a benefit to landowners because of a demand for industrial sites near interchanges.

On the subject of right-of-way acquisition, the federal official said, it is not a process of sudden, inconsiderate eviction.

Budget Chief Sees Peril In Spendthrift Economy

New York (UPI) — Federal Budget Director Maurice H. Stans Tuesday night warned Americans against being lured down the road of economic disaster by "cult of growth" worshipers.

"The cult of growth is breeding a new illusion we cannot afford to tolerate as a point of departure in entering the '60s," he said.

Addressing the annual dinner of Tax Foundation, Inc., the nation's budget chief said that attempts were being made to construct national policy around the raw objective of economic growth, measured in quantitative aggregates.

Spendthrift Logic

"It is becoming the excuse, or the rationalization, for unbalanced budgets, for unrestrained public and private borrowing, for inflationary expansion, and for the enlargement of government spending to meet group pressures," said Stans.

"It is a poorly-disguised version of an old proposition, which is that we can spend ourselves into prosperity. That one dies a hard death."

Stans said the decade ahead would be of grave importance in the international struggle between freedom and Communism.

"It is in this new decade that the Soviets will make their great effort to overtake the West in industrial output, productivity, and trade," he said.

Stability First

For the United States, he said, the decade must be years of economic growth with stability.

"We dare not gamble with our resources," he said. "They must be put to work for our survival. If we consume them on marginal needs, there will not be enough left to energize the effort we must make."

"The real issue is whether we have the determination needed to develop the muscle of our economy for the strenuous effort we must make to meet the Soviet threat."

Americans, he said, must face up to the fact that the government has to stop living on "credit cards" and must pay its own way.

Alvo Approves, Murdock Opposes School Merger

Lincoln Star Special

Proposed consolidation of Murdock, Alvo and Elmwood school districts was both favored and opposed in special elections held Tuesday.

Alvo residents approved the plan by a vote of 98 to 39 in a "fair turnout" at the polls.

But it was a different story at Murdock where 148 votes opposed the proposal compared to 124 votes for the plan. In a similar election earlier the issue lost by almost two to one.

Meanwhile, Elmwood officials adopted a "wait and see" policy, postponing any vote until results of the Murdock and Alvo voting were received.

Stanton Delaplaine's POSTCARD

Weather cool and brisk. Fireplace weather. Have been reading the ladies' journals on the advantages of having a Man around the House.

The main advantage, I see, is a Man Around the House is seldom around. When he is around, he should be put outside to bring in more firewood.

"Will you bring in some more wood, dear? The fire is nearly out."

"Um, hum. Soon's I finish this article."

"Well, hurry. Because you have to dress for the party."

"Party? Heavenly days, what party?"

"I told you two weeks ago. The Snivelys' party."

I HATE the Snivelys. I am positive I NEVER said I would go to the Snivelys—except for Snively's wake, maybe.

"If we are going to the Snivelys—and nobody EVER told me that, I swear. If we are going, let the fire go out."

"Don't be difficult! We want it going when the Herring comes over."

"The Herring! My—!"

They are coming by for cocktails first. We want a nice fire going."

Good grief!

I am a man Around the House. Hower of wood. Drawer of water. (But not in my good suit. I hew and draw BEFORE I put on my good suit.)

Here is a story in Redbook, December issue.

Anna Kashfi, that is the Indian cupcake married Marlon Brando then they said she was REALLY just an English girl in make-up and they got divorced, remember?

Miss Kashfi tells all. She says it was her fault.

"When you live with a person it's different. Suddenly you are living with a man and you have to be tolerant."

Well, that is one girl's opinion. And does not represent the opinion of the sponsoring public, believe me.

Why be tolerant if they are intolerable and will not get the wood? That is the current opinion in our neighborhood.

The fire is now blazing—it is a little TOO hot but, "Don't you think you should open the windows and let in a little air, dear?"

I am an opener of windows. Some of the windows are stuck. But if you wrap a dish-towel around your hand, it will not cut you badly if the pane breaks.

Mrs. Herring is a slave driver. I know the type. Boy, does old Herring look beat! Ragged around the edge. I hear he is on the sauce pretty good. And I don't know that I blame him.

"Harry is just like a BEAR if I ask him to do a thing, ha, ha," says Mrs. Herring.

"Just the other day, I said: 'Harry, why don't you move the concrete mixer into the garage before it gets rained on?' I never HEARD such language. I think anybody who has been in the Navy should go through some sort of decontamination school before they go out in society again."

Old Herring smiles to show he is a social cat. It is a weak effort.

He certainly looks like he has been at the brew, all right. Look at the sag on those eyes. Practically mopping the floor.

"Hadden't we better get over to the Snivelys?" I would like to get this thing over. Back to Redbook and Anna. I wonder, did she make old Marlon haul the wood? I expect not. What a doll!

"Oh, there's no hurry. They NEVER start on time."

That is true. A Man Around the House would not know these things. And it is a good thing we have somebody around to tell us. The time to arrive at these soirees is one hour after the time set.

Just about when the hostess is watching the roast dry out in the oven. And the host is ory-eyed from drinking alone.

"I was a spoiled little girl," said Anna. "In other romances I did have, I got my way in everything; it was always what I wanted to do."

Time to go to the Snivelys. I am anxious to see where they have the grand piano. Mrs. Snively is a furniture-shifter. Trying to make things look more INTERESTING, you know what I mean?

Guess who moves the piano?

Mrs. Moore To Get Help From Church

Mrs. Betty Lou Moore will get "all the spiritual assistance" possible, according to Elder Theodore Carcich of Lincoln, president of the Central Union of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

The pastor and members of the congregation will endeavor to get her forgiveness from God, whether the state forgives her or not," Carcich said. "All the due processes of law will be honored," he added.

Carcich said he had learned that Mrs. Moore, the former Betty Lou Zuberbier of Badger, Minn., was reared under "unhappy circumstances" and "her recent deed is undoubtedly a carry-over from early home life," according to Carcich.

The Moore family of Belton, Mo., belonged to New Haven Adventist Church in a Kansas City suburb and both Mr. and Mrs. Moore were former students at Union College in Lincoln.

Stockholm — Transport problems will be erased for couples getting married here next Sunday. Stockholm's 1,200 cabbies, celebrating the 60th anniversary of their business, said they will carry newlyweds and their wedding guests free from churches to receptions.

a meeting of all the presidents of the South American republics. Such a session has been proposed as a follow-up to the inter-American conference in Ecuador in February. This would enable the President to pay his respects to all of the South American neighbors without the risks and physical strain of visiting a number of countries.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said a tour of the area had convinced him the administration had been too slow in dealing with problems in Latin America.

Capehart told a news conference he warned 7 years ago against the very problems which caused recent anti-American demonstrations

Dawson County Democrats Hear Conrad At Rally

Lincoln Star Special
Lexington, Neb. — Robert Conrad, administrative assistant to Gov. Ralph Brooks and a possible candidate for Democratic gubernatorial nomination, was the principal speaker at a Dawson County Democratic rally held at the Cornland Hotel Tuesday night.

Conrad reviewed the programs in state government accomplished under the first Democratic administration Nebraska has had in 18 years.

State Agricultural Director Pearl Finigan and Russell Hanson of Newcastle, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, also spoke at the rally.

The trio was flown to Lexington by State Aeronautics Director Jack Obbink in Obbink's private plane.

Bernard Smith of Lexington is chairman of the Dawson County Democratic organization.

in Panama. He also said Latin American nations should get a bigger share of U.S. aid funds.

A Senate foreign relations subcommittee on Latin America, headed by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), is touring the area now to determine what Congress should do to make the Good Neighbor Policy work.

Rail Commission Dismisses Charge

The Nebraska Railway Commission Tuesday dismissed the complaint by the City of Scottsbluff against the United Telephone Company of the West.

The city filed the complaint against the telephone company's practice of passing the occupation tax on to its customers in Scottsbluff.

The commission approved the practice on the strength of an attorney general's opinion.

The city had asked that the firm be halted from passing the tax on to customers, and that taxes already collected from patrons be refunded.

The railway commission also granted authority to the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Co. to temporarily waive certain service connection charges applicable to the establishment of new services at certain exchanges for 30-day periods.

The commission also granted an operating permit to Clifford L. Grove and Eugene J. Karmzain, doing business as Santa's Mobile Sled, Superior.

Authority was granted to the Chicago and North Western Railway Co. for authority to establish a switching charge of $17.46 per car from the point of connection with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy or Union Pacific Railroad at Fremont, effective immediately.

Adenauer Opposes '3rd A-Force' Idea, Sees Disarmament As Key To Peace

Paris (UPI) — A spokesman for visiting Chancellor Konrad Adenauer took issue Tuesday night with President Charles de Gaulle's idea of building up Western Europe as an atomic "third force" between Russia and the United States.

Bonn government spokesman Felix Eckardt said Adenauer, who arrived here Tuesday morning for two days of strategy talks, sees disarmament as the key to easing tension.

The spokesman made the West German stand in a press briefing after the first day of talks in which the French and West German leaders hoped to iron out their policy difference in advance of a summit conference.

Adenauer declared on his arrival that France and Germany "should stand close together." The two leaders see eye-to-eye in many things but Eckardt disclosed Tuesday night these do not include de Gaulle's concept of continental Europe as a third world force between "the Russians and the Anglo-Saxons."

"I don't think it is possible to create a third force of equivalent atomic power between the two atomic giants," the spokesman said. France plans to expode a nuclear test weapon next year, to make the country an atomic power.

Adenauer's spokesman also took issue with de Gaulle's stand that France must look to its own means for its defense and would not go along with the project of integrated European defense forces.

A French spokesman Tuesday night indicated, however, that France might be softening its stand on this issue. He said: "France agrees with Germany on the question of a 'certain degree of integration.'"

The spokesman said the French and Germans had agreed on a 4-point agenda for eventual East-West summit talks with the problem of Berlin and Germany at the bottom of the list. In the top spot was disarmament, followed by non-interference in the internal affairs of other countries and aid to underdeveloped nations.

Girl's Kisses Enhance Black Jewel's Charms

Chicago (UPI) — A farm girl's kiss boosted the price for the nation's grand champion steer by $618 Tuesday.

The kiss from Darlene Hansen, 21, of Le Mars, Iowa, also insured a few extra acres for her sweetheart to farm after they're married next spring.

Darlene's kisses helped spur the auction bidding for Black Jewel, a 1,035-pound Aberdeen Angus and grand champion of this year's International Livestock Exposition, the nation's biggest farm show.

Bought By Restaurant Chain

Black Jewel went for $22,346, or $21.60 a pound, to the Howard Johnson restaurant chain. The money, third highest ever paid for a grand champion, will be shared by two Remsen, Iowa, brothers, Roy and Wayne Maass.

The price might have stayed at $21,738, or even lower if it hadn't been for the kisses of Darlene, who is Roy Maass's fiancée.

Darlene's kisses were bestowed upon Ellard Pfaelzer, member of the meat suppliers' firm representing the restaurant chain at the auction.

Half way through the bidding in the chilly Chicago stockyards, Pfaelzer pointed to the comely, auburn-haired girl standing beside Black Jewel and announced "if this little girl will kiss me I'll raise it a dollar."

Darlene obliged and the bidding continued until Black Jewel was knocked down to Pfaelzer at a price of $21 a pound. Pfaelzer's generosity, however, was unappreciated.

"In honor of the 60th anniversary of the show and for kissing this little girl," Pfaelzer said, "I'm going to pay $21.60 for this fine animal."

A Buss For His Bonus

The price jumped $618 and Pfaelzer claimed his reward. Darlene gave it with enthusiasm. Roy Maass just grinned and the crowd cheered.

"I guess those kisses are worth a few extra acres," Roy said afterwards.

Roy, a 21-year-old redhead, has already leased a farm near the 360-acre spread he now shares with his brother. He plans to start farming on his own after he marries Darlene, his 4-H Club sweetheart for the past 10 years.

"The first thing I'm going to do is pay off my debts," he said. "I've been getting congratulatory telegrams from all my creditors."

L.H. Anderson: 'Brooks Buys Labor's Vote'

Lester H. Anderson, a candidate for lieutenant governor, charged Gov. Ralph G. Brooks Tuesday with using Nebraska highway money "to buy labor votes."

Anderson, former state senator now living in Lincoln, said the bidding blanks issued by the highway department for the Dec. 17 bid opening include "controversial high wage rates" in a Sarpy County job for the first time.

These high rates had previously been restricted to Douglas County, he said.

The Sarpy County project is 5.9 miles of highway from Papillion west, he said.

The governor "has surrendered another county to the labor leaders," Anderson said.

He has already filed suit against the governor and state protesting the high wage rates required for highway jobs in Douglas County.

Open Primary Is Nebraska's Wish, Lienemann Says

Republican gubernatorial candidate Del Lienemann of Lincoln said Tuesday that Nebraska voters want "an open primary, free from party line interference."

The Lincolnite said voters have told him they believe party officials should take "a hands-off policy in the primary so Nebraska voters may have a free choice of candidates."

Lienemann said "the most common complaint heard has been that special interest groups are making an attempt to find a candidate whom they can control, and thus dominate political developments in Nebraska."

The state can achieve "prosperity unlimited," the candidate said, if it will "acknowledge that its tax system is unfair."

Lienemann is the only Republican thus far to file for the gubernatorial nomination.

NU's Girl Military Drill Team Gives Mrs. Brooks Memories

December 4 has been circled on Gov. and Mrs. Ralph G. Brooks' social calendar for weeks.

The appearance of a girls' military drill team, at the annual Military Ball at Pershing Auditorium Friday night holds special interest for the Brooks, especially for Mrs. Brooks.

The Cadence Countesses, a branch of the University of Nebraska's Pershing Rifles organization, will be the first girls' drill team to appear in Lincoln since Mrs. Brooks' "Zephyr Cadets" of Wymore appeared in 1939 and 1940.

Mrs. Brooks acted as the sponsor and drill mistress of the 35-member squad when Gov. Brooks was superintendent of schools.

At Ballgames

At the time, the Wymore group was believed to be the only unit of its kind in the United States. The girl cadets performed at University basketball games, Mrs. Brooks recalled.

"Both the Governor and I have been anxiously awaiting the countesses' appearance here," she said.

The 31 University girls will make their public debut in attractive white corduroy uniforms. They will enact complex drill routines during the ball's intermission.

No Rifles

The girls perform their snappy routines in a manner similar to that of a male drill team, only minus the burdensome rifles.

Officers of the newly formed organization are Sharon DeMars, colonel, South Sioux City; Betty Condon, secretary, Creighton; Gladys Rafert, treasurer, Gresham; and Bethene Smith, operations officer, Bartley.

3 Lincoln Youths Admit Taking Part In Recent Lootings

Police said Tuesday 3 young boys have admitted being involved in week-end burglaries at Woodcraft Inc. at 3613 No. 48th and at Dawes School at 49th and Colfax.

The boys, ages 11 and 13, will be referred to county juvenile authorities, police said.

A pop machine outside Woodcraft Inc. was looted but although the firm itself was entered, nothing was reported missing. The school also was ransacked but again nothing was reported stolen.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

ASK—

Dorothy Draper

DEAR ABBY: I'd like your support in a new campaign. "Back To The Living Room!"

Last night my husband and I attended a party. The hostess gave us a quick tour through her lovely new home and then she ushered us all up all down to the basement. We spent the entire evening in full view of the furnace and laundry tubs, sitting on old broken-down furniture and hard folding chairs. It was drafty and chilly down there, too. We are all adults and certainly not a rowdy bunch.

This isn't the first time this has happened to us. A basement is a basement whether you call it an "amusement room" or a "rumpus room." Why do people do this?

"INSULTED" DEAR INSULTED: When guests are herded down to a chilly basement to sit on broken-down furniture when a comfortable living room is available upstairs, the motives of the host and hostess are obvious. They are preserving their Number One furnishings for their Number One guests.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is exactly like the one I saw in your column — only I'm not a beautician whose friends ask me to do their hair for free after hours. I am a woman who arranges flowers for a florist for a living. All my relatives, friends and neighbors ask me to "decorate their tables" after work and on Sundays. They tell me I am so clever, talented, etc., etc. They don't think it is work for me. No one offers to pay me, either. They just say, "Thanks a million!" If I say no to them, they think I am terrible. Please say something about people who ask for professional services after hours for nothing.

CAN'T SAY NO DEAR CAN'T: Ask these people if they would take a basket of dirty clothes to a woman who washes and irons for a living, ask her to do it up for them, and then say, "Thanks a million!" The principle is the same. When you are asked for your professional services after hours—for free—simply say, "Thanks a million, but I'm busy."

DEAR ABBY: I really hope you can do something about this because I am a 15-year-old boy who is feeling mighty low. I am sick and tired of calling girls for a date and having them say how much they break love to go and then they turn around say to their mothers in a low voice, "Say no, I can't go!" Then they come back to the phone and apologize all over about how sorry they are. They could at least cover the phone. If I am wrong, please correct me.

TURNED DOWN DEAR TURNED: You are not wrong! But don't be content with refusals (sincere or otherwise) as long as YOUR feelings are spared. Buddy up to one of the girls and find out why you are turned down so consistently.

DEAR ABBY: My problem seems so hopeless I am almost ashamed to write it. But here goes: I am a 27-year-old man who is normal in every respect but I am so bow-legged it is pitiful. I am not just slightly bow-legged. I am VERY bow-legged. I have even thought of asking a doctor to break both my legs and to reset them, but I was told it can't be done. I hate to ask girls for dates and swimming is out of the question. Is there any hope for a bow-legged guy who is honest and clean and lonesome?

BOW-LEGGED DEAR BOW: Get over the notion that because your legs look like "11" you have to take a backseat to men whose legs look like "11".... The most harmful curve is in your thinking. Forget it, and everyone else will.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

If you're far from the sea but long for the feeling of sailing ships and blue water I have a suggestion for you. A friend of mine has just turned an unused attic store-room into the most charming suite. A clever carpenter put in a good-sized picture window on one end. A stunning scenic wallpaper was chosen for the side walls, a peaceful old colonial harbor with sailing vessels moored to the docks. The sky is a radiant blue, the water a deeper blue; the ships have white sails and the houses are brick. You feel right at the water's edge! A wide shelf below the picture window holds pots of red tulips (raised from bulbs, in her sunny window). Try this scenic effect on one wall of your dining room. It's cheaper than taking a trip!

Mrs. G.M. asks: "The living room walls need to be painted, but it seems I have put colors together that do nothing for each other: a dark green sofa, two chairs covered in antique gold, one light beige and one dark beige chair. The carpeting is rose beige, but is very light colored. I recently chose new drapes and picked a champagne or off-white color. What can be used for the walls to help blend the colors already there and what accent color for pillows, etc?"

DEAR Mrs. G.M.: How did that dark green sofa get in there? It must look rather lonesome amidst all those beiges. I would paint the walls a tawny beige (a new paint color available almost anywhere) and toss a bouquet of geranium-pink and antique gold pillows on the dark green sofa. Then see to it that you have bowls of dark green rhododendron (or similar) leaves to act as color guards to that lonely dark green sofa.

Mrs. D.G. asks: "We're doing over my mother's living room. Could you suggest a color which is almost white but a little softer and warmer?"

DEAR Mrs. D.G.: Yes, there is a beautiful new color called "White Opal," and doesn't it sound just right for a mother's living room? It's a wonderful background for those new allspice and tangerine accessories.

Teetering, stork-legged tables make any room seem so full of legs it looks as if it might run away at any moment. Any tables with such runaway legs will be immensely improved if you cut them down to the height of your sofa end tables.

—Picked up some interesting news in our trek around town this aye — For one thing — we learned that Mrs. Howard Wilson will be leaving for California a week from Friday — Dec. 11. Mrs. Wilson, so we hear, has purchased a home in Rancho Santa Fe, Calif., and plans to spend her winters and summers there — For the other two seasons of the year — spring and autumn — Mrs. Wilson will be a Nebraskan. The blueprint of her future activities includes building a home in Lincoln.

—Understand Mr. and Mrs. Milton Beechner were in Norfolk last Sunday when they attended a reception given at the Madison Hotel for which Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mapes and Mrs. Donald Mapes were host and hostesses. The party honored Mr. and Mrs. Beechner's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Richard Mapes.

—From Kansas City, Mo., comes word of the arrival of Barton Edward Bennett on Friday, Nov. 27. The young man's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bennett, and his mother is the former Philomene Dosek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Dosek — and Pi Beta Phi at Nebraska.

The new Delta Tau Delta legacy also includes among his ardent admirers his brother, Bradford — a sister, Brendan — and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Bennett of Beatrice.

—Leaving on Sunday to return to their home in Manhattan, Kan., were Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Honstead and their three daughters, Carole, Nancy and Mary Lou, who had spent the Thanksgiving week end as the guests of Mrs. Honstead's mother, Mrs. F. D. Keim.

—And back in town are Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Kühle who have returned from a tour of 11 European countries.

—Speaking of homecomers — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carper and their four sons, Skip, Jeff, Chris and Brad, have returned from Chicago where they spent the past week as the guests of Mrs. Carper's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Kevill. Before returning home they also visited Mrs. Carper's nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Chilton E. Parker in Northbrook, Ill.

Kitchen Revolution In Italy

Italy has had a revolution — in the kitchen.

surprise to anyone who has ever seen an Italian espresso coffee maker. Sooner or later

Italians were bound to become gadget-happy.

Roman housewives have become enthusiasts for American (or American inspired) can openers, vegetable peelers, slicers and dicers with a passion they formerly reserved for Rossano Brazzi (Italy's Clark Gable).

That's the way it began. It has gone on to include everything else — electric beaters, mixers, washing machines, and even an occasional dishwasher tossed into an occasional palazzo. The Italians have also put out some rather tricky gadgets of their own: coffee grinders, espresso machines (big and little ones) and garlic crushers, have been joined by a new pasta maker which rolls and cuts pasta into any shape you want — spaghetti, ravioli, fettuccine, and even a flying saucer number.

Because electricity and gas still cost so much to install and use in Italy, few Italian families can afford to fully Americanize their kitchens. But more and more Roman households now have a big shiny refrigerator, an American type stove with glass-paned oven, a can-stacked pantry closet and at least one gadget filled drawer.

What was it that changed the Roman kitchen more in the last 10 years than in the 20 centuries since Caesar? Primarily responsible was the rise of a new income group after the war. Although it couldn't afford the huge retinue of domestic help, still common in the homes of Roman aristocracy, it could afford new kitchen equipment. The influx of American movies and magazines which showed off the glamor and efficiency of the American kitchen also played a role.

Opening lead — eight of hearts.

I, for one, never did cotton to the idea held by the members of the club that Sylvia's triumphs were all inadvertent and entirely a matter of luck.

They say some people are born under a lucky star and whatever they do comes out all right even when they don't know what they're doing. I grant there are taxpayers whom a merciful providence seems to shield from disaster, and, furthermore, I've met many a bridge player who appears to fall into this category.

But Sylvia, contended the membership, was out of this world when it came to these happenstances. They insisted that Sylvia didn't even know what time of the day it was when it came to playing bridge, and couldn't conceive that Sylvia ever consciously performed the feats recounted here from time to time.

In support of their contention, they would cite this example of Sylvia's sheer dumb luck. She got to five clubs on a reasonable enough sequence of bids. West led a heart and Sylvia won the ten with the ace.

She entered dummy with a spade and led a low club. East played low and Sylvia won with the king, catching West's queen.

The situation looked hopeless. East obviously had to make two trump tricks and there were still two diamond losers to be taken care of.

True, she could discard one diamond on the king of hearts, but the other one would then constitute the setting trick.

But Sylvia, with indomitable spirit, carried on. She led the king and another spade, ruffing in dummy. Then she played a diamond to the ace, forgetting, in the excitement of the moment, to take a discard on the king of hearts. She was heard to gasp at this juncture, but it was too late to retract the play.

Now Sylvia led a trump. East cashed two trump tricks but then, having only hearts left, had to lead one into dummy's K-J, thus permitting Sylvia to shed both losing diamonds and make the contract.

Would you call it luck? (1959, King Features Syndicate Inc.)

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Appears to be a busy week in the Leslie Seacrest household. On Thursday, Mrs. Seacrest will entertain the members of her bridge eightsome at a luncheon, and Saturday evening the Seacrest couple have invited 12 guests for a dinner party at their home.

We also learn that Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Seacrest were host and hostess to the members of their dinner club last Saturday evening at their home. On hand for the dinner and bridge party were Mr. and Mrs. James C. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Harris and Mr. and Mrs. George Reichenbach.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Lee Adams celebrated Thanks-

IDEA OF THE WEEK FROM DECEMBER BETTER HOMES & GARDENS

HERE'S AN EASY WAY FOR YOUR DOOR TO SAY "MERRY CHRISTMAS"

For a really simple, easy-to-make holiday door decoration try a Cranberry Mosaic wreath. It's so "Christmasy" in design and color, and you can copy it from this picture in a twinkling. Even the small children in your home will enjoy making this door wreath as a do-it-yourself holiday project.

All you need is a supply of raw cranberries, some transparent glue, foil pie plates and a plain evergreen wreath.

First you glue the raw berries onto the bottom of the foil plates. When the transparent glue is dry, attach the plates to your evergreen wreath... and presto... you have a charming and unusual door wreath.

If you'd like to vary the design, it's easy. Just substitute pine cones or small Christmas ornaments for the cranberries.

You'll find a wealth of holiday decorating ideas to brighten your home in December Better Homes & Gardens. Plus 58 Taste-tested Recipes to help you plan your holiday menus.

Lancaster To Use 1961 Road Funds For Present Program

'Projects Under Contract Now Obligate All Aid'—Cochran

By Betty Person

State Engineer R. L. Cochran said Tuesday that Lancaster County has federal aid secondary highway projects under contract now which are "sufficient to more than absorb federal funds available (to the county) through fiscal year 1961."

Because of this over-obligation and the "tighter rein" the Department must hold on all federal aid funds as the result of contract controls imposed by Congress this year, the county's fiscal 1961 allocation will be applied against its present obligations.

According to Highway Department figures, Lancaster County has obligated a total of $1,052,331 in federal aid secondary funds since the program was inaugurated in 1954.

Federal allocations in secondary road funds to the county from 1954 through 1961 amount to $671,753. In addition to this, the county has received $317,130 in extra funds (in 1955, 1956, and 1957) from federal monies unused by other counties.

This brings Lancaster County's total allocation of these federal funds from 1954 through 1961 to $988,883, as against its obligation of $1,052,331, which would leave a total of $63,448 still over-obligated at the end of fiscal 1961.

County Objects

Lancaster County officials have taken strong exception to the Highway Department's announcement that its 1961 allocation would be applied against current obligations.

County Engineer, Louis Weaver says the state's policy of applying the 1961 funds against these obligations constitutes a "repayment" of the extra funds made available in previous years, but that when they were made available, the "state said nothing about having to pay them back."

There is also a disagreement between the county and state on how much the state has obligated.

Weaver said Tuesday that Lancaster County has paid a total of $945,238 in its funds to match the federal government's 50-50 participation.

Amount Disputed

This is $107,043 under the Highway Department's figure of $1,052,331 which it says the county has obligated in federal funds since 1954.

George J. Welty, chief of the Highway Department's records and audits section, said the county's figure might not include federal participation in engineering costs incurred by the county, right-of-way purchases, and the final estimates on contracts not yet completed, to account for the difference.

Weaver said, however, that engineering costs are included in the county's figures.

Some items such as field inspections may not be in the county figure, Weaver said, but he maintained they would not make up the $107,000 difference.

Objects To Regulations

As for right-of-way costs, Weaver said Lancaster County "decided some time ago" that it would pay for land purchases out of county funds because it did not like the complicated regulations the federal government has on right-of-way purchase.

Lancaster County Board members said last week they would confer with the state on the matter, but Cochran said Tuesday he has not yet been contacted by any one from the county.

According to Highway Department figures, a total of 9 counties have over-obligated their federal aid secondary funds.

In addition to Lancaster, the counties are Adams, Arthur, Buffalo, Franklin, Hall, Merrick, Red Willow and Sherman.

Know Next Month

State highway officials said Tuesday they will not know until next month whether all of the counties will make use of their fiscal 1959 secondary aid funds.

These funds were made available to the counties July 1, 1958 and it has always been, and continues to be, the Department's policy that the counties will have these funds available to them for at least 18 months.

Under a policy inaugurated this year by Cochran, the counties to which the funds were allocated originally will "have the say-so on how they are to be released" if they do not use them themselves.

Falls City Rites For Morgan, 32, Car Crash Victim

Falls City (AP)—The body of a former Nebraskan, killed in an auto crash at Pasco, Wash., will be returned here for burial.

'We Want Mainland'—Chinese Guests

By Walt Switzer

A pair of Republic of China legislators, on a 3-day tour of Lincoln, noted that the people of Formosa are anxious to fight back to the mainland of China.

Kuo Tien-yi, a trading company executive as well as a legislator, said that any such move would be tempered by the feelings of other countries including the United States which have mutual defense pacts with the Republic of China.

Telling of the armed strength of the island republic, Kuo said, "we have 600,000 men in the combined armed forces and through air from the United States they have been well equipped."

"The Air Force has been supplied with jet planes and the Navy has been granted use of American ships," he added.

He also pointed out armed forces are well drilled and the average age of the fighting man is quite young.

Now Experts

The other legislator, Sher Ling-yun, commenting on the economic position of Formosa said:

"With the support of American aid we have achieved self sufficiency and have proved able to export such products as sugar, rice, tea and fruit."

Woman Claims Damages In Fall At Courthouse

A Lincoln woman injured recently in a fall on the County Courthouse steps has filed a claim for $1,158.75 damages with the County Board.

Mrs. Mary E. Muggy of 2430 So. 38th alleges injuries she suffered in the fall resulted in $158.75 medical expenses. She also asks $1,000 for pain and suffering.

Her claim was referred to the County Attorney's office for study.

"In addition to exports we have effected technical cooperation with Thailand and Viet Nam," he added.

Sher pointed out that during the first 30 days of the tour through the United States he had been impressed by industrial progress and the high standard of living.

President of the China Art-Craft Assn., Sher said, "We expect continued American aid in the form of moral support, technical assistance, and continued development and loan aid for the next few years."

"In that way," he added, "we will be able to become a strong and faithful ally."

Kuo also stated that Formosa, "welcomes foreign investment for the mutual benefit of all countries."

The two visiting legislators will tour the University of Nebraska Wednesday and the State Capitol Thursday.

Boost Slate In 3-1

Nebr. State May Go With Four

By Don Bryant
(Sports Editor, The Star)
St. Petersburg, Fla.—Three-I League directors Tuesday voted to increase the 1960 schedule to 140 games by a 7-1 vote, as expected.

Only Topeka objected as the slate was increased from 126 games. Opening day will remain the same, April 24th, but the season was extended 3 days until Sept. 8.

Lincoln will open at Sioux City on the 24th and will launch the Sherman Field season on April 27th.

"I'm very happy the schedule has been increased," said Lincoln executive vice president Vaulk Risser. "We now have 14 more games to offer the Lincoln fans."

In another harmonious—but lengthy session—the directors studied the amendments of the major-minor agreement which will be voted on at the final session of the 58th annual convention Thursday.

The amendment of most importance, aside from numerous technical ones, would increase player limits of teams from Class D up through Class A by one, with the major leagues paying all attendant additional expenses. This is expected to be passed.

While the Three-I League wound up its business, the Nebraska State League apparently decided to operate with only 4 teams in 1960. Another meeting is scheduled today and plans will be finalized.

The Chicago White Sox (Holdrege), Kansas City Athletics (Grand Island), San Francisco Giants (Hastings) and the Milwaukee Braves (McCook) have agreed to operate again, even if it is

Pennant Winners Needlers

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Walter Alston, soft-spoken and relaxed manager of the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers, and his former pupil, Larry Shepard, disagree on almost everything—in a friendly way—except their respect for each other.

Both had a good time ribbing each other here at the national convention—and both were armed with pennants. Alston guided the Dodgers to the National flag and the series. Shepard copped the Pacific Coast League banner at Salt Lake City.

Walt and Larry were in the Western League together back in 1947. Shep was a chucker on Alston's Pueblo team. When someone dropped by to congratulate Alston, Shep would poo-poo the achievement: "Nuts, he should win it every year with those horses."

Wills On The Spot

Shep, ribbed Alston about LA shortstop Maury Wills: "Boy, we loved to play against him. He can't do the job for you."

Alston had a quick answer for that: "All I know is that when he came to us we were in 3rd place, and with him playing we moved up to first."

Picture Showing Time

Before long it was picture showing time. Alston pulled out snapshots of his family—including one of himself standing beside one of his horses—and Shep promptly unveiled a shot of wife, Joyce, and son, Larry Jr.

"Boy, that kid is a dandy," chortled Shep. "He's really even tempered and relaxed."

Alston countered, "he certainly must have gotten that trait from his mother."

And the needle battle was on again.

Klein To Big Time

Bumped into Lou Klein, former Des Moines manager who will be returning to the big leagues as a coach for the Chicago Cubs next summer.

"No 3rd base for me," Lou grinned. "I'll be coaching at first base—the easy spot."

"It's the first time I haven't managed for a long time—and it's relaxing feeling. But I'll probably worry because I'm not worrying. This will complete the cycle. I've played and managed, now for coaching."

Ex-Husker Busy Fella

One of the busiest men here is Tom Elliott, vice president of Rawlins, who was a basketball letterman at the University of Nebraska (1924-26-27-28).

Tom and his staff are busy showing the latest sports equipment to the hundreds of baseball men.

"Say, Nebraska did all right in football didn't they," Tom beamed. "That Oklahoma win was really something."

Elliott, a native of West Point, Neb., is a brother of Mrs. Chester Paul of Lincoln. Young Chet Paul—his nephew—is the ex-Lincoln High All-Stater who is now on Jerry Bush's NU freshman team.

"We wanted Chet to go to Nebraska, and I'm sure glad he did," Elliott said.

Kaplan Has Kickoff Fever

Eddie Kaplan, Sioux City general manager, was in a stew all day Tuesday, but not because of baseball.

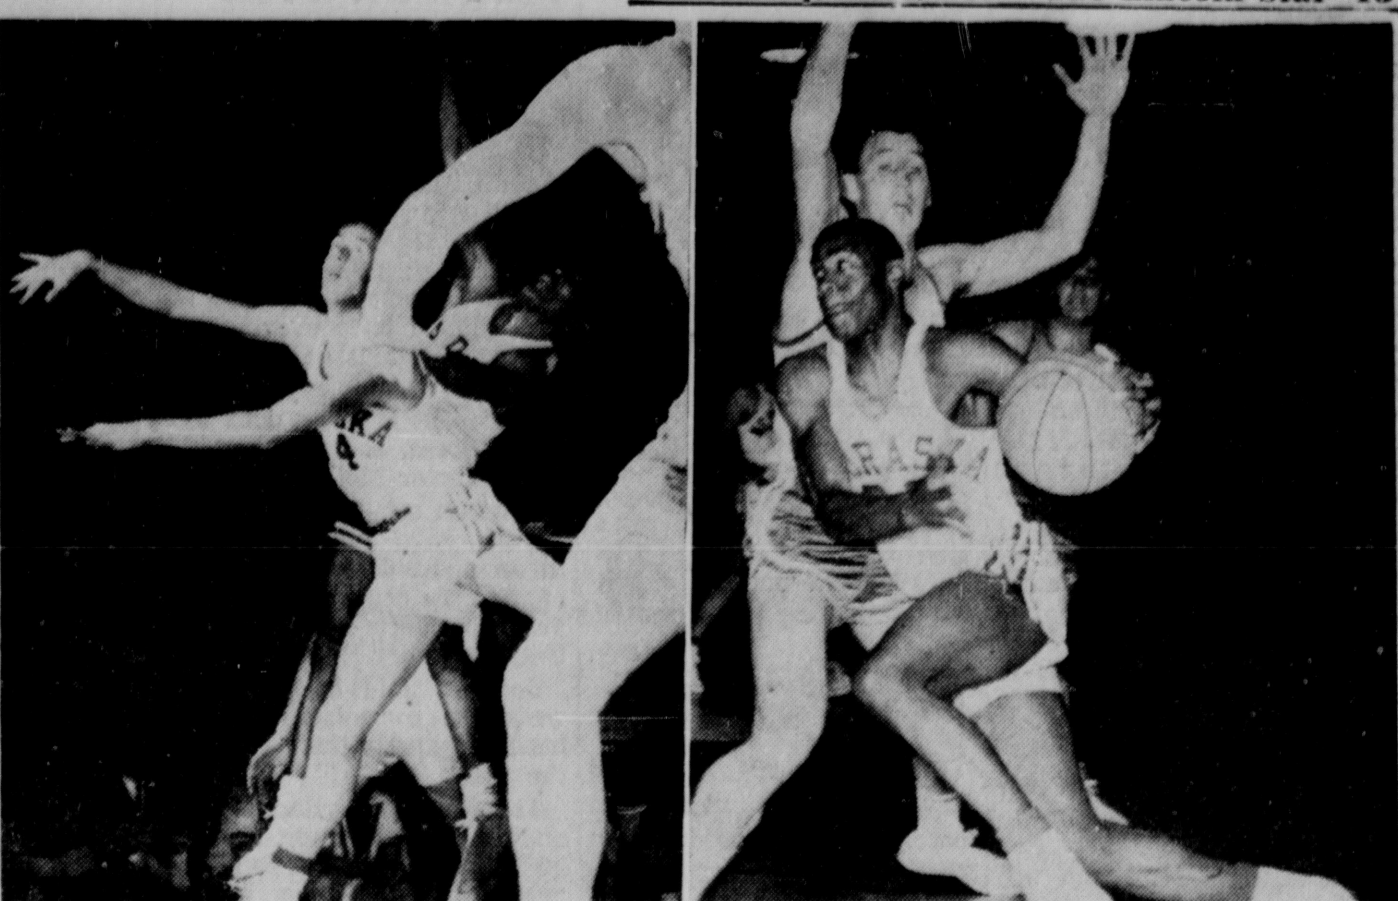

He was fretting the opening of basketball season and Nebraska's game with Stewart AFB.

"This could be tough," he groaned. "It's one of those games if you win so what, and if you lose you're dead. I hope the kids come up."

Eddie is a former student manager for Bush at Nebraska, and he had kickoff fever.

Rudy Stoehr Hits 43 Points

By Paul LeBar

Nebraska Wesleyan's Rudy Stoehr began with a rush at the Ira J. Taylor Gymnasium Tuesday night.

The big fellow from Lincoln Northeast pumped in 43 points as Wesleyan shaded a good Winona (Minn.) team, 74-66.

Stoehr's performance, tops for him as a Plainsmen, filled in most of the gaps left within riddled Wesleyan ranks.

He rammed home 17 counters during the opening 10 minutes, while cultivating a 27-15 Wesleyan spread.

By the half he had 23 counters. Altogether he hit 15 of 27 from the floor and 13 of 18 from the line.

The early lead came in handy when Coach Joe Gerlach's Minnesotans stormed back into a 49-48 press with 11:13 to go.

It was Stoehr with the answer again at that late juncture. The 6-5 sophomore pumped one in from the corner and gave the Plainsmen breathing room.

Wesleyan trailed only once in a ragged opener. That was a short-lived 3-4 deficit with two minutes gone. Stoehr overcame it with a pair of fielders.

The Adonis-like lad hooped his first 8 long jump shots while Winona froze up. It was 19-6 with 6:54 gone.

Outfought under the boards during the pre-intermission melee, Wesleyan countered with Stoehr in the late stages.

Rudy excelled with the chore and fought off the visitors' Ken Stellflug, Tenold Milbrandt and Jon Kaiser for caroms.

Wesleyan sophomore Jim Munford and juniors Dennis Semun and Ken Major flashed signs of more help for Stoehr in the future.

Duane Eichorn and Ron Gillham went it almost alone in the backcourt.

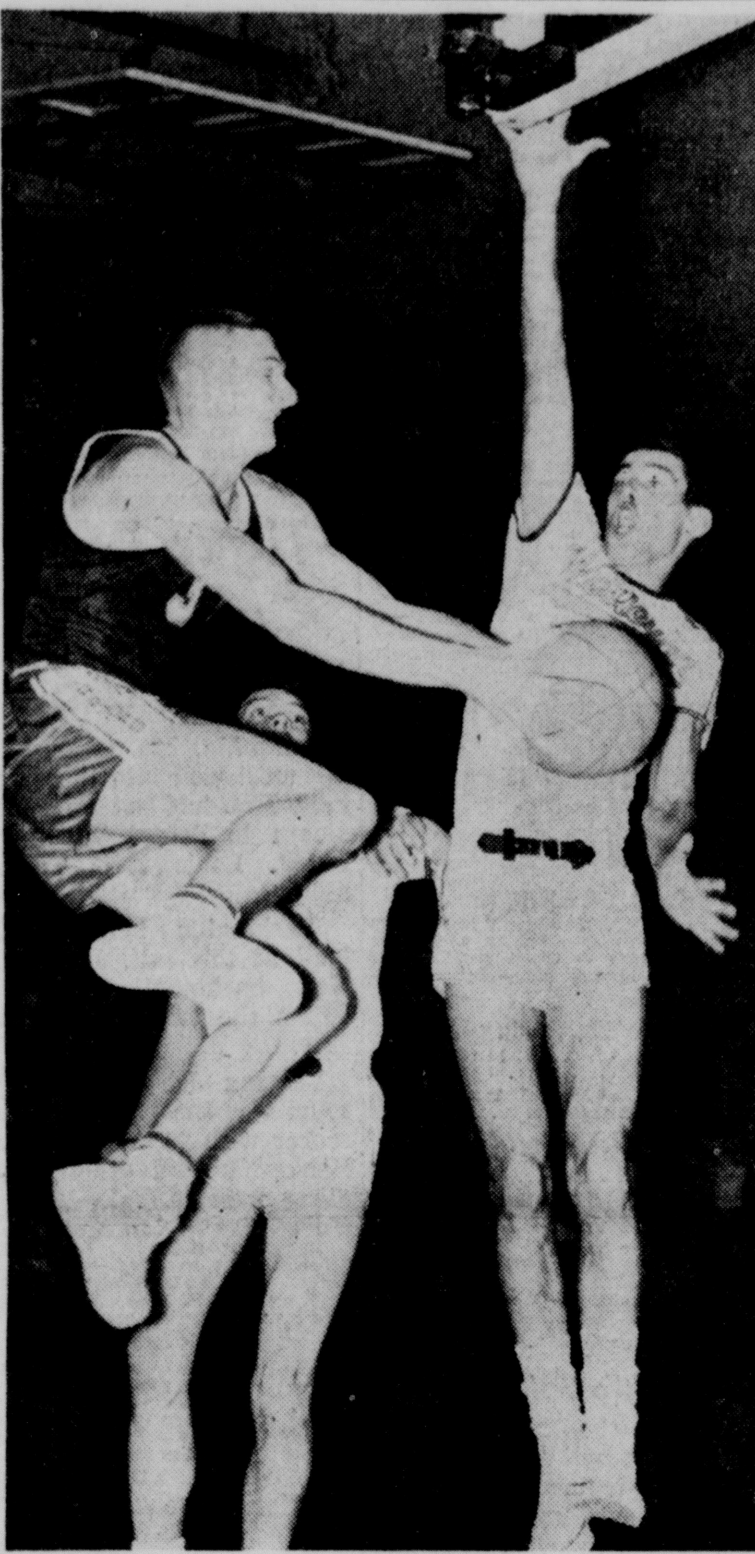

Stoehr's 43 points eclipsed the court record of 30 points hung up by the Plainsmen's Glenn Reed two years ago.

Rudy had a previous high last year of 40 against Concordia on the road. His mark Tuesday night was 4 shy of Don Boldebuck's 47, set in 1953 against Chadron.

In the preliminary, Claire Fredstrom and Daryl Mitchell counted 12 and 11 points respectively as the Plainsmen B team outdistanced Sigma Chi from the University of Nebraska, 58-41.

Salting Try Misfires In Tag Match

Referee Tom Novak nixed a naughty maneuver by the Nasty Nips and awarded his sympathies to Ernie Dusek and Vern Gagne in Pershing Auditorium's feature wrestling bout Tuesday night.

Mitsu Arakawa and Kinji Shibuya, a pair of scheming Japs, were the victims of Novak's edict and lost a tag team match by disqualification.

With the match tied 1-1 after Ernie D. and Arakawa had each won a fall, Gagne put the pressure on Mitsu.

Kinji wouldn't buy it and came to his countryman's rescue with a shaker of salt. But Gagne ducked and Novak caught the assault squarely in the eye.

Tom would have no more and promptly declared the disqualification, sending the 1,629 fans home.

In other bouts, Emil Dusek whipped Al Spindola, Doug (Body Beautiful) Gilbert beat Tommy O'Toole and Judy Glover bested Dot Dotsen in a feminine fray.

Promoter Jack Pesek announced the next Pershing bouts will be Jan. 2, with a gala lineup of mat stars on hand.

PAUL, BEMIS LEAD FROSH

Chet Paul, former Lincoln High star, and Larry Bemis of Martinsville, Ind., paced the Nebraska freshmen to a 76-62 victory over the Campus All-Stars at the Coliseum Tuesday night.

Paul tallied 17 points and Bemis 15. Bob Prokop scored 14 and Chuck Stacey 10 for the All-Stars.

Bush called his starters to the bench 7 minutes from the end and the Huskers ahead 56-39. First-line sophs Jan Wall, 6-8 Al Buuck, Al Roots,

NU Trails By 4 At Halftime

...Maxey, Turner Tops

By Bob McCoy
Nebraska cracked the scoring flak with a second half splurge and bombed Stewart Air Force Base 73-46 in the Huskers' season inaugural at the Coliseum Tuesday night.

Trailing 30-26 after a ragged first half, coach Jerry Bush's Huskers opened the victory gates with a 30-point burst and landed safely as the fast-starting Falcons ran out of fuel.

Easy Al Maxey and "Happy" Herschell Turner again manned the controls during the Husker spurt, but found a new partner for their ball-handling show in soph Rex Swett of Huron, S.D.

Starting the second half, the Airmen boosted their 4-point lead to 6 with the first bucket. They didn't get many more.

Maxey, Swett and dependable Jim Kowalke popped jump shots and then old H.T. (Turner) batted home a 3-point play with 6 minutes gone to put the Huskers ahead 35-34.

Falcon Dave Mowbray, a former Colorado star, immediately put the Flyboys back in command with a jumper, but H.T. came back with one of his patented "hangers" and NU couldn't be stopped.

Maxey scored on a Swett-engineered fast break to make it 39-36 NU—the first time the Huskers had better than a 1-point margin.

Turner was next, potting a layin after center Bob Harry started another fast break. Maxey connected on a rebound shot and it was 43-36 with 12:25 left.

Ted Switzer's free throw got back one point for the frustrated Falcons, but the Huskers tossed in 11 straight markers before the Air Defense Command boys from Newburgh, N.Y., scored again.

Bush called his starters to the bench 7 minutes from the end and the Huskers ahead 56-39. First-line sophs Jan Wall, 6-8 Al Buuck, Al Roots,

OMAHA JUNKS LOSS STREAK

Lincoln Star Special

Omaha—Omaha University junked a 16-game losing streak here Tuesday night with a 76-68 win over Midland College.

The winners led 38-34 at intermission but needed a rally to overcome a 61-59 deficit in the late stages.

Jim Markey and Bob Pratt paced the Indians with 20 and 17 points respectively. Denny Groves of Midland led all scorers with 34 points.

Omaha's last victory prior to the contest was a 66-53 decision over Mankato Teachers of Minnesota Jan. 3, 1959.

Tiger Ace Runs Away With Poll

... Lucas, Meredith Next

New York (AP)—Billy Cannon, Louisiana State's hardrunning halfback with a flair for climactic performances, Tuesday was named winner of the Heisman Trophy as the best college football player of the year.

The trophy committee announced that the 6-foot-1, 210-pound all-purpose star was picked by a substantial margin over his closest rivals—quarterbacks Richie Lucas of Penn State and Don Meredith of Southern Methodist.

Cannon was the No. 1 choice in each of the 5 sections of the country from which 935 qualified electors voted.

He will receive the award at a reception and dinner to be held Dec. 9 at the Downtown Athletic Club. Vice president Richard M. Nixon will make the presentation at ceremonies to be nationally broadcast.

Cannon was 3rd in the voting last year when he led the LSU team through an unbeaten season to the national championship. Pete Dawkins of Army won the award then, followed by Randy Duncan of Iowa.

This year the big halfback's exploits as runner, passer, kicker, pass-receiver and secondary defender earned him 519 first place votes compared with 97 for Lucas and 26 for Meredith.

His coach, Paul Dietzel, former assistant to Red Blaik at Army, paid him the highest compliment when he said Cannon was "faster than Glenn Davis and more powerful than Doc Blanchard."

These were the great touchdown twins of Army in the immediate post-war period. A native of Philadelphia, Miss., Cannon is a track star who has run the 100-yard dash in 9.4 seconds and tossed the 16-pound shot more than 53 feet. He is a pre-dentistry major, married and father of 3 daughters.

Pittsburgh Picks Frank Carver

Pittsburgh (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh Tuesday named Frank Carver its athletic director. He succeeds Tom Hamilton who resigned to become commissioner of Athletic Association of Western Universities.

Carver has been acting athletic director since Hamilton resigned last August. He formerly was graduate manager of athletics and also served at one time as director of sports publicity. He was graduated from Pitt in 1931.

Johnson Has No Confidence In Steen Audit

State Auditor Ray Johnson said Tuesday night the audit of State Game Commission activities at 3 southwest Nebraska reservoirs is "the silliest thing I have ever heard of and should be stopped immediately."

The audit is being done by Lloyd Steen, son of commission director Mel Steen.

Johnson asked, "How can anyone have any confidence in an audit done by the son of the man concerned?" The audit has been asked by McCook publisher Harry Strunk.

Johnson said he plans to write the commission members to request them to stop the audit.

The long-time Republican auditor said the audit should be done by an independent agency. He said he would like to do the job but doesn't have sufficient staff.

In McCook Strunk said Gov. Ralph Brooks agreed with Johnson.

He quoted Brooks as saying: "I am in favor of putting the game commission under the governor instead of making them an administrative body all by themselves."

"Then I would have some authority in regard to what goes on in the department. Under the present system the governor is held responsible by the people but actually is nearly helpless in what transpired."

Orangemen Remain 1st In UPI Poll

New York (UPI)—Syracuse's unbeaten Orangemen, busy preparing for their season finale Saturday against dangerous UCLA, remained a solid first place choice Tuesday in the United Press International college football poll.

Although Mississippi tightened the gap on the Orange after walloping Mississippi State 42-0, Syracuse still had 334 voting points to 291 for the Rebels.

Southern California, 16-6 victim of Notre Dame, dropped from 7th to 12th and was replaced in the Top 10 by Clemson.

In the only other change, No. 5 Georgia traded places with No. 6 Wisconsin.

Brown Forecasts KO Against Young Briton

... Bout With Charnley Champ's 8th Defense

Houston, Tex. (AP)—Old Joe Brown, who has been laughing at the years and the youngsters trying to take his world's lightweight crown, makes his 8th title defense tonight against another of the youth brigade—big-necked, solid Dave Charnley of Britain.

Charnley, the 24-year-old ex-boilermaker of Dartford, Kent, who hopes to be the first Englishman since Freddie Welsh in 1917 to hold the lightweight championship, expressed confidence that he would win. But he wouldn't speculate on how he might do it.

Brown, the 34-year-old Negro from Baton Rouge, La., who has held the title 3 1/2 years, was more emphatic, as he usually is. He said he would knock out the British challenger, an opinion seconded by Brown's manager, Lou Viscusi.

Viscusi, however, disagreed with Brown and trainer Bill Gore, who figure it will be a fairly easy fight. "I think it will be a terrific battle and Joe's going to have to hump it," said Viscusi.

Frank Hits 35 Markers For K-State

Manhattan, Kan. (AP)—Lanky Wally Frank scored 35 points, leading the Kansas State Wildcats to an 85-52 victory over South Dakota State in a season basketball opener before 9,560 Tuesday night.

Kansas State, the Big Eight champion the past two years, was off to a 10 point lead, 14-4, the first 5 minutes. The Wildcats were in front 40-30 at the half and won going away as coach Tex Winter used all 17 of his players.

The 6-8 Frank, a senior, made 16 field goals on 24 shots, most of them from side court. He made 3 of 4 free throw attempts.

Don Jacobsen, speed playmaker, was South Dakota State's best scorer with 15 points. Teammate, Darrell Corlett helped with 13.

Little Joe, who's so skinny he looks like whipcord, is a resounding favorite in the betting. Locally he's 12-5, in New York it's 13-5. In England it's reportedly 3-2. Even the 9 English writers here to cover the fight favor Brown.

This is the 4th title fight in Houston in 29 months but it isn't expected to attract as big a crowd as the preceding 3. Texas Boxing Enterprises, which is promoting the fight, forecast a minimum of $40,000.

The holiday period and so much football are expected to hold down the gate although there has been a marked pickup in ticket sales the last two days.

There will be $40,000 in television money and Brown gets 40 per cent, meaning he will drag down about $32,000 of the $80,000 total.

NU GRIDDER FETED TONIGHT
The University of Nebraska football squad will be guests at the annual Cornhusker dinner tonight at the University Club.

The Rev. Ronald Meredith, pastor of the First Methodist Church at Wichita, Kan., will be the principal speaker.

The undefeated freshman football squad will be guests at a dinner Dec. 7 at the Lincoln Country Club.

MIDWEST DOMINATES UPI TEAM

... Cannon Tops Votes

New York (UPI) — United Press International presents its 1959 All-America football team, chosen by the ballots of 359 sports writers and broadcasters from all parts of the nation.

Chosen as the finest collegiate players in the land at their positions were:

Ends—Monty Stickles, Notre Dame and Bill Carpenter, Army.

Tackles—Dan Lanphear, Wisconsin and Don Floyd, Texas Christian.

Guards—Roger Davis, Syracuse and Bill Burrell, Illinois.

Center—Max Baughan, Georgia Tech.

Quarterback—Richie Lucas, Penn State.

Halfbacks—Billy Cannon, Louisiana State and Ron Burton, Northwestern.

Fullback—Charles Flowers, Mississippi.

Cannon, the spark-plug of Louisiana State's Sugar Bowl bound Tigers, is the only repeater from the 1958 UPI All-American team and this year, as last, led the balloting.

He received a total of 3,048 points, the second strongest showing in the history of UPI's All-America team. S. Baughan beat out Jackie Burkett of Auburn by only 37 points.

Olson Gets Mention
Nebraska's Don Olson, a Big 8 Conference guard selection, was accorded honorable mention.

Olson polled 1 vote to join 18 other conference members on the honor roll. Big 8 list: Ends—Danny LaRose and Russ Sloan, Missouri; John Peppercorn, Kansas; Wahoo McDaniel, Oklahoma. Tackles—Glimmer Lewis, Oklahoma. Guards—Jerry Thompson, Oklahoma; Larry Van Der Heyden, Iowa State; Olson, DuPre, Oklahoma State. Centers—Fred Hageman, Kansas; Jim Davis, Oklahoma; Arden Esslinger, Iowa State; Tom Swaney, Missouri; Hitt, Oklahoma State. Backs—Tom Watkins, Iowa State; Gail Weidner, Colorado; John Hadi, Kansas; Bobby Boyd, Oklahoma; Mel West, Missouri.

The Far West, the Rockies and the Midlands failed to land a single player, although the Pacific Coast landed 3 berths on the second team.

Conference-wise the team is dominated by the Big 10 and Southeastern Conferences, each with 3 players.

There was only one close race, for the center position.

only a 4-team loop, according to executive secretary Ernie Quitmeyer of Lexington.

"It's possible that the teams won't operate in the same cities, however," Quitmeyer said. "The major league teams want to make the league more compact. In fact, the only solution to keeping the league at all is to make it more compact."

Still wavering are the New York Yankees (Kearney), while the Cleveland Indians have pulled out of North Platte. The Yankees are expected to make the decision today.

North Platte is the city that has been left holding a king-size bag. That city built a $13,000 clubhouse last year, and spent more than $20,000 in park improvements.

Add to this the fact that one of the finest minor league parks in baseball — Omaha's Municipal Stadium — is unoccupied, and it's evident that Nebraska didn't fare well here.

Three-I directors also voted to give full support to Cedar Rapids which is making a pitch — with banners and buttons — to get the national minor league convention next year. Others in the race are Columbus, Ohio, Miami, Jacksonville and Louisville, Ky.

Winds Damage Wheat Fields In West Area

... 90% Of Corn Picked; Milo Harvest Near End

High winds caused some damage to wheat fields in western Nebraska last week, government crop observers reported Tuesday.

Most Panhandle counties and some counties in the southwest experienced dust and blowing soil conditions, according to the weekly crop review of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

Surface soil is becoming quite dry in much of the western wheat area and the late planted crop lacks height and protective cover, the report said.

Nearly 90% of the corn crop had been picked by last weekend. Some eastern and northeastern counties have a large unharvested acreage because snow and wet fields have held up picking operations.

Some corn in extreme eastern Nebraska still has a fairly high moisture content. In many areas, lodged fields, broken stalks and fallen ears combined to slow the ingathering, the report added.

Milo harvest is virtually completed and warmer weather has enabled growers to dig sugar beets that had been in frozen ground.

Cattle continue to move into harvested corn fields and the demand is fairly strong for feeder livestock to glean fallen grain.

Moisture received throughout Nebraska during the past week included:

Demo Rep. Teague Sides With Weaver In Philippine Corruption Charges

Washington (AP)—Rep. Olin Teague (D-Tex.), honored 3 years ago by the Philippine government, sided Tuesday with a colleague who charged officials of the islands with corruption and abuse of American military personnel.

Teague, chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, also said he is suggesting to the State Department that it ask Carlos P. Romulo, the Philippine ambassador to the U.S., about published remarks attributed to him.

Romulo, in commenting on accusations by Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb) regarding troubled relations between the United States and the Philippine Government, said American prestige abroad was falling because its overseas representatives were men "lacking in background and mentality."

"I am suggesting to the secretary of state," Teague said, "that he ask Ambassador Romulo to name our people whom he considers lacking in background and mentality."

A much decorated combat veteran of World War II, Teague visited with the late Philippine President Ramon Magsaysay shortly before the latter was killed in a plane crash in the Philippines on March 17, 1957. Magsaysay presented him with a medal.

"Because of my interest in the Philippines," Teague continued, "and because of my being chairman of the Veterans Affairs Committee, many people from the Philippines, both Americans and Filipinos, passed through my office last year."

"Almost each and every one of them expressed concern about the problems mentioned by Congressman Weaver. He should not be used as a whipping boy by our Government or by the Philippine Government."

"We should admit that there is a very difficult problem existing between our Government and the Philippines."

You Should Live So Long Secret To Longevity? Omit Everything Nice!

London (AP)—A 55-year-old woman doctor said Tuesday that people can live to be 200 if they give up smoking, drinking, proteins, starch and sex.

The amazing Russian-born Dr. Barbara Moore twice in 7 days has foot-slogged a tough 110-mile course to prove her physical fitness.

"Life with mastered sex—that's really the vital key to the success of my two marathons," she said in an interview.

"Of course I can't completely ignore sex, but I've mastered it so that there are no abnormal urges."

Asked her views on having children, she replied:

"I could have a baby now, but I prefer to wait until I'm 100."

"My husband knows that I have the body of a woman of 32, the vigor, stamina and endurance of a man of 24."

Her husband is a sculptor, Harry Moore. He is 46. She said she had devoted many years to studying the secrets of living.

"I live for nature, knowledge, music and speed on a motorcycle," she said.

Dr. Moore said diet has had a lot to do with her strength and energy—which she demonstrated in her two walks.

She covered the 110 miles the second time in 26 hours, 34 minutes. The first march took longer.

"I eat no starch, no carbohydrates, no protein and no fibre," she said.

Her diet concentrates on fruit juices, water and honey.

"And I sleep only about two hours a day. I need no more."

"I derive nourishment from every atom of my tiny diet," she said, "which is why I need so little food."

Decatur Liquor License Hearing Set For Dec. 9

The hearing on application of a liquor license, for which the city of Decatur recommended denial, was changed from Dec. 8 to 9 a.m. Dec. 9, the State Liquor Control Commission reported Tuesday.

The applicants for the retail Class C liquor license are James R. and Mildred Cooper of Decatur.

Road Speed Limit Rules Go On File

Rules and regulations establishing reduced speed limits in 35 areas on the state's highway system were filed with the Secretary of State's office Tuesday by the Highway Department.

The filing was made to eliminate any legal question on the department's authority to reduce speed limits in accordance with an opinion from the attorney general's office.

The maximum speed limits on the state highway system generally are set at 65 miles per hour for daytime driving, and 55 at night.

Nebraska statutes, however, provide that whenever the highway department determines, upon the basis of an engineering and traffic investigation, that the maximum limits are "greater than is reasonable and safe under the conditions found to exist," it must declare a reasonable and safe maximum for that area.

Such limits, the statutes say, shall be effective when appropriate signs giving notice thereof have been erected at that area.

A department spokesman said many of the 35 areas posted in the rules and regulations filed Tuesday have been in effect for some time. Other areas will be added upon completion of investigations, he said.

Gov. Ralph G. Brooks waived a public hearing on the matter.

J. Dittberner Named Head Of Adventists

Elder J. L. Dittberner of Casper, Wyo., has been named president of the Nebraska Conference of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, according to Theodore Carcich, temporary chairman of the conference executive committee.

Elder Dittberner will assume duties Jan. 1, succeeding Elder N. C. Petersen, president since 1955, who will retire from active ministerial service at the end of the year. He and Mrs. Petersen plan to move to Riverside, Calif.

Elder Dittberner will serve as administrator for the affairs of the 65 churches in the Nebraska Conference, consisting of 5,000 members.

A graduate of Union College in Lincoln, the president-elect is now president of the Wyoming conference of the Adventist Church. He is former pastor of Central Church in Denver, largest Adventist congregation in Colorado.

His 20-year ministry also has included pastoral and evangelistic service in the southwestern states.

Elder Dittberner and his wife, Dorothy, will reside at 4513 Calvert. Their 2 children, Larry and Virginia, are both students at the Platte Valley Academy at Shelton.

Doctor's Hearing Reset Before Health Director

A hearing before the state health director for Dr. Harry G. Williams, Omaha physician, was postponed Tuesday to Dec. 15.

Dr. Williams, convicted in federal district court of the illegal sale of drugs (not narcotics), was ordered to show cause to Dr. E. A. Rogers, state health director, why his license to practice medicine in the state should not be revoked.

Dr. Williams was arrested after federal agents purchased "bennies" from him without a prescription, according to the court record.

He pleaded guilty to 5 counts, was fined and given a sentence which was commuted to probation.

THE YEAR OF THE BIG TURN IS HERE, BUT...

Why Millions Are Now Saying:
"My Next Car Will Be a RAMBLER"

RAMBLER'S ORIGINALITY STILL HAS NOT BEEN COPIED

THIS is the year that will go down in automotive history as the great turning point—the BIG TURN.

For never before in its sixty-odd years has the entire industry been forced to turn in its tracks in the space of months, by the power and success of a new and different concept—the Rambler concept of the compact car.

It's the year of the BIG TURN in which every major manufacturer has had to produce an imitation of the compact Rambler.

The year of the BIG TURN in which the majority of car makes have turned away from old-fashioned, bolted construction. They have copied Rambler's modern, aircraft-type Single Unit Construction.

The year of the BIG TURN when one of the biggest manufacturers dropped a big car and, in its place, will introduce a second smaller car.

This BIG TURN made the biggest automobile news in decades. What would it mean to big car sales? What would it mean to Rambler? Magazines, newspapers, independent research organizations rushed thousands of interviewers to dealer salesrooms and auto shows to question prospective car buyers.

These researchers found that instead of weakening Rambler's popularity, the newcomers had strengthened it. At auto shows where people could see all makes side by side, the vote for Rambler was overwhelming. At one auto show, a survey showed Rambler first in buying preference among all cars of all sizes. At another show, Rambler was second only to America's largest selling automobile. Everywhere, millions are now saying: "My next car will be a Rambler."

Why has the introduction of the imitators skyrocketed demand for Ramblers?

Because car buyers have found that the worth of the original has not been equaled by the copies, just as the great originals in art and literature have never been equaled by the copies and imitations.

Because, in attempting to copy Rambler, the imitators were copying Ramblers of two, five or ten years ago.

Because, while the others were copying Rambler features of former years, Rambler made giant new strides for 1960 with a host of new improvements that left the imitators even further behind.

Because Rambler has the passenger room for six big men, the luggage room, the entrance and exit room the others lack.

Because Rambler's resale value is not a question mark, but officially highest of any low-priced car—making it the best automobile investment you can buy.

Because Rambler was built to fill a genuine need for a fine quality, sensibly sized, economical automobile, whereas the imitators were rushed out to meet competition. Rambler was built to serve; the others were built to sell.

Because in approximately copying Rambler's size, the others could not copy Rambler's basic excellence.

Because America knows that a few months testing by a few professional drivers can't give you the proved dependability of Rambler's 25 billion owner-driven miles.

Because Rambler offers not just one or two models, but the world's widest choice of compact cars—30 different models in all the most popular body styles, including 16 station wagons.

Because only Rambler gives you the Best of Both: big car room and comfort plus small car economy and handling ease.

Now, as a result of exploding demand for 1960 Ramblers, American Motors is expanding plant facilities again—for the 3rd time in 12 months to serve the growing millions who need and want a Rambler.

Visit your Rambler dealer and see the car that "called the BIG TURN" and made the whole industry head in a new direction. Before you buy any car, large or small, see the proof that Rambler's originality still has not been successfully copied. See the proof that only a Rambler can equal a Rambler.

How Rambler's Basic Excellence Brings You Balanced Qualities of Usefulness

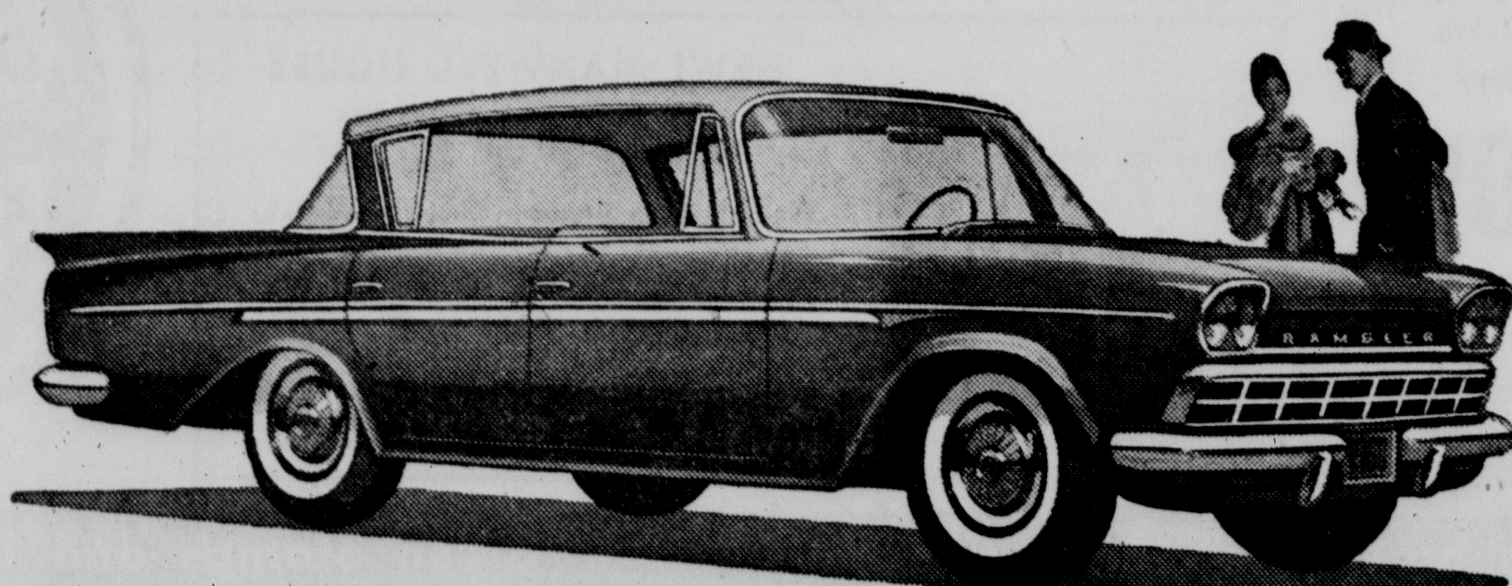

The 1960 Rambler has been built to meet the public's specific needs in a motor car—to give the ideal balance of qualities that are most useful to the user:

- Highest quality of materials and craftsmanship, ideally balanced with America's lowest prices and best resale value.
- Fine performance ideally balanced with top economy, proved by 10 years and 25 billion owner-driven miles.
- Big car comfort ideally balanced with small car handling ease.
- Greater strength and durability ideally balanced with less bulk and weight due to Single Unit Construction.

- Smart modern styling ideally balanced with spacious, easy-to-enter interiors.
- Plus exclusive "Deep-Dip" Rustproofing of the entire body up to the roof, not just "shallow-dip"—or no dip at all . . . world's widest choice of compact models, smoother "Deep Coil" Ride and finest heating, ventilating and air conditioning . . . reclining seats, adjustable headrests and many other exclusive luxury features.

That is why the run-away compact car success of 1960 is RAMBLER—the originator and world's largest builder of compact cars.

SABBING AMERICA FOR LIFE

... Before Cuban Military Tribunal

Havana (AP)—Stretcher bearers carried a weeping American ex-associate of Fidel Castro before a military tribunal late Tuesday to defend himself against a possible death sentence. He is accused of counter-revolutionary activity.

Rafael Del Pino, 33, of Miami, Fla., a Cuban-born naturalized U.S. citizen, was wounded by police bullets in his capture last July, went on trial with Luciano Linares Gastell, who was a Havana policeman during Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship.

The military prosecutor has demanded death for both defendants.

Flat on the stretcher, Del Pino broke down and cried when he was borne into the courtroom in La Cabana Fortress.

'Tears Of A Man'
"These tears are the tears of a man, not a coward. I am not afraid to die. I cry because they refused (in prison) to let me see my mother."

The Miami man, who once helped Castro buy arms for the revolution that deposed Batista, was brought into court wearing pale blue pajamas.

Del Pino's wife gave birth to a daughter, their second child, in Havana last Friday and was not in court.

5 Boys Fact Charges In Theft Of Auto Parts

Five teen-age boys involved in recent thefts of auto parts have been ordered to appear in Juvenile Court, according to Police Lt. Gail Gade.

The 5 boys, four 16 and one 17, reportedly have admitted stealing tires, car batteries, a fuel pump and other such items from various locations in the city.

Douglas Co. Equalization Board Files An Appeal

The Douglas County Board of Equalization filed its brief in Supreme Court Tuesday on the appeal by Baum Realty Co. from a district court decision on the tax valuation of its property.

The realty firm contended the assessment was too high. The board of equalization set the firm's basic valuation at $1,200,000.

The firm held it should be $483,000 or $434,000, those two figures being presented by assessors testifying on behalf of the firm.

On an appeal, the district court for Douglas County set the basic valuation at $1,037,000. The firm appealed to the supreme court.

The board of equalization questions whether the firm has met "its required burden of proof" in seeking to overthrow the assessment.

Concluded the attorneys for the board of equalization: "The property in question is located within a stone's throw of the trial judge's chambers and, from the posture of the record, it would be difficult for Solomon himself to prove the wise trial judge erred in his judgment."

Ainsworth District Files Court Appeal

The Ainsworth Irrigation District filed its brief Tuesday in the appeal to Supreme Court brought by a group of ranchers in Cherry and Brown Counties.

The ranchers appealed after the district was given permission by the state water resources director Dan S. Jones Jr. to divert water from the Snake River some 50 miles eastward for irrigation.

Attorneys for the district said the ranchers "themselves make no use whatever of the water to be employed in this project," and said they are asking for a reversal of the policy "which has for so long protected this state's most important resource."

The ranchers are attempting to "prevent any effective utilization of our water resources through irrigation," the brief said.

The Ainsworth project "will utilize part of nearly 200,000 acre feet of water now wasting away annually into the Gulf of Mexico," and the area, in which "dry farming" is not possible, "will be converted, primarily, to meat, poultry, dairy and sugar beet production with an annual increase of 3 million dollars in the farm income of the region," they said.

"Nebraska should not be deprived of the benefits of this program by a few objectors with a 'dog in the manger' attitude who make no use whatever of such water and have no claims upon it," they said.

State Appeals In Test For Drivers License Case

The state appealed to the Supreme Court Tuesday from a decision of the Sheridan County District Court allowing an 83-year-old man to have a driver's license after he failed to pass the test on re-examination.

Asst. Atty. Gen. C. S. Brubaker filed the appeal on behalf of Alvin Scissors, director of motor vehicles.

The action was brought by Philip G. Burress, 83, of Gordon, who was ordered in for a re-examination for driver's license by an officer. He failed the test and the license was revoked, Brubaker said. He appealed to the district court, which ordered his license reinstated.

The state filed a motion to vacate the judgment on grounds no summons had been received, but the district court overruled it. The state then appealed.

Preble Resigns Post On Omaha Personnel Board

Omaha (AP)—Gordon Preble resigned from the Omaha personnel board Tuesday.

Preble's letter to Mayor Rosenblatt said he had "personal reasons" for the resignation but did not elaborate.

He had been a member of the board since it was organized in June, 1957, and his term was to run until next June.

Preble was president of the Nebraska AFL-CIO until he resigned a month ago.

Hungary Revolt Blamed On Pro-Stalin Leaders

... Khrushchev Addresses Budapest Congress

Vienna (UPI)—Nikita S. Khrushchev said Tuesday his own abrupt denunciation of Stalinism in February, 1956, caused an upheaval in world communism and touched off the Hungarian freedom rebellion.

In an address before the Hungarian Socialist Workers (Communist) Party Congress in Budapest, the Soviet premier said the "fever" generated by his attack on Stalin combined with "mistakes" by the old Stalinist regime to give the revolution its spark. He made it clear this never would happen again under the new Hungarian government which received his blessing.

Varied Comment
Ranging over world affairs, the Soviet leader also:

—Repeated his call for a summit conference, "the earlier the better."

—Warned again that Russia was "invincible" with stockpiles of nuclear rockets, but was ready to "destroy" them in a disarmament pact.

—Again demanded Allied withdrawal from West Berlin and renewed his threat to sign a unilateral peace treaty with East Germany.

—Accused West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of "interference" in Berlin.

—Warned the West not to expect basic Soviet changes because "we shall never forego our ideological principles."

Khrushchev stressed Soviet support for the puppet Hungarian regime of Janos Kadar established by Soviet steel in November, 1956, which is reported still executing freedom fighters of the abortive revolt 3 years ago.

The Soviet leader blamed "to a considerable extent" the misrule of the Stalinist Hungarian regime of Matyas Rakosi which fell just before the revolt started on Oct. 23, 1956. Rakosi, disgraced, last was reported living in Outer Mongolia.

Find Omahan Along Tracks

Omaha (AP)—The mangled body of a man identified as John S. Dineen of Omaha was found along the Burlington railroad tracks in Omaha.

John Dineen was a brother of Omaha Fire Capt. Martin Dineen.

Acting Coroner George Sullivan termed the death an accident, and police said the man stumbled or fell under the wheels of a freight train.

November Fuel Tax Income Down

Fuel tax collections for November fell $450,193 below the corresponding month last year, Inez Lebsack, chief of the Motor Fuels Division of the Department of Agriculture, reported Monday.

A total of $3,516,394 was collected in November compared to $3,968,589 collected in November of 1958.

Breakdown for the most recent month was taxable gasoline $3,283,938, special (diesel) fuels $189,218, and taxable aircraft gasoline $46,248. There was also $7,105 in fees collected, not included in the total.

Collections from Jan. 1 to Nov. 30 were above last year, however, totaling $40,209,615 compared to $38,499,375 for the same period in 1958.

47 Fishers Freed

Tokyo (AP)—The Russians have released 47 Japanese fishermen seized in recent months in Soviet-claimed waters, the Maritime Safety Agency said. The fishermen were turned over to a waiting Japanese Coast Guard ship at Holmsok, in Soviet Sakhalin.

The action was brought by Philip G. Burress, 83, of Gordon, who was ordered in for a re-examination for driver's license by an officer. He failed the test and the license was revoked, Brubaker said. He appealed to the district court, which ordered his license reinstated.

The state filed a motion to vacate the judgment on grounds no summons had been received, but the district court overruled it. The state then appealed.

Asst. Atty. Gen. C. S. Brubaker filed the appeal on behalf of Alvin Scissors, director of motor vehicles.

F-86 Deactivation 'Won't Hurt' State Air Nat'l Guard

Deactivation of an F-86 interceptor squadron based at Sioux City is not endangering the Nebraska Air National Guard, according to an officer from the Nebraska ANG squadron.

He noted that the Sioux City unit is an active group under Air Defense Command.

However, Air National Guard units throughout the nation are scheduled to undergo transition to some other aircraft in the future, the officer said.

Norfolk Couple's Grandson Victim Of Iowa Accident

Norfolk—Carroll Brown Jr., 19, who was killed with 3 other college students in a car-truck crash near Holstein, Ia., was the son of Dr. and Mrs. Carroll Brown, Sioux City, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry J. Brown, Norfolk.

A fifth Iowan was injured in the accident.

The youths were returning to Drake University at Des Moines after spending the holiday at their homes.

Weaver To Speak At Convocation

Columbia, Mo. — Dr. John C. Weaver, dean of the Graduate College and research administrator at the University of Nebraska, has been selected as convocation speaker during the University of Missouri's annual Arts and Science Week.

Dr. Weaver will speak Friday on the topic, "They Also Serve Who Only Stand and Think."

The week-long observance opens Wednesday with a concert by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

Red Refugees Mount

Bonn, Germany (UPI) — The Refugee Ministry reported that 2,379 refugees fled Communist East Germany to West Germany last week. In the previous week, 2,194 persons sought refuge in West Germany.

Boycott Protest

London (AP) — Students at London's University College have voted to boycott South African products as a protest against South Africa's apartheid (segregation) policy in higher education.

Longtime Ashton Lumberman Dies

Lincoln Star Special

Loup City — Albert Anderson, 77, who operated a lumber yard in Ashton for more than 50 years, is dead.

Funeral services will be 2 p.m. Thursday at the Loup City Presbyterian Church.

A native of Sweden, Mr. Anderson came to the United States in 1900. In 1955 the Lumbermen's Assn. awarded him a medal for being in the lumber business 50 years.

Surviving are his wife; 2 daughters, Mrs. Clarence Calvin and Marion Anderson, and a son, Dale, all of Ashton.

Oil, Gas Revenue Up 10% In October

The state collected over 10 per cent more revenue from the production of oil and natural gas last October than in the same month of last year.

The severance tax division of the Department of Agriculture reported that $111,087 was collected on 1,951,059 barrels of crude oil and $2,971 was collected on 836,225 million cubic feet of natural gas for a total of $114,060 (including $1.15 penalty) for October.

In October of last year, $102,927 was collected. In the preceding month, September 1959, $122,839 was collected.

U.S., Reds Ink Treaty On 'Peaceful' Antarctica

Washington (UPI) — The United States, Russia and 10 other nations Tuesday signed a historic treaty declaring that the vast frozen continent of Antarctica "shall be used for peaceful purposes only."

President Eisenhower hailed the pact as a "significant advance toward the goal of a peaceful world with justice." He said it should serve as an "inspiring example of what can be accomplished by international cooperation."

Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister Vasili V. Kuznetsov, who signed the treaty for Russia, said it reflects a "definite improvement" in the international situation and "will serve the main objective now facing mankind... to preserve and strengthen peace."

The treaty makes no attempt to settle the many conflicting territorial claims in Antarctica, an area of 5 million square miles, equal to the size of the United States and Europe combined.

Open To Exploration
The 14-article treaty, the first Russia has signed with this and other Western nations, except for the Austrian peace treaty, since the outbreak of the cold war, is designed to keep the South Polar icecap free of military bases and open to peaceful and co-operative scientific exploration.

It includes a limited nuclear test ban—the first ever agreed to by the United States, Russia and Britain, the 3 major nuclear powers. The document bans all nuclear weapons testing or explosions in Antarctica except for such peaceful purposes as generating electricity or melting ice for water.

The treaty makes no attempt to settle the many conflicting territorial claims in Antarctica, an area of 5 million square miles, equal to the size of the United States and Europe combined.

Interstate Should Not Touch Heart Of City-Morrison

Omaha (AP) — Frank Morrison of Lincoln, a contender for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, declared he can see no justification for pushing an interstate highway through the heart of any city.

Morrison made his comments to about 190 persons attending a meeting of the Taxpayers Plan group.

Morrison said he doesn't think "the interstate highway system was designed to solve" Omaha's traffic problems.

He predicted the Interstate 3 route through downtown Omaha would "dead-end on the Missouri River." He said he based this statement on a conversation he had with a member of the Iowa Highway Commission.

The highway is planned to cross the river on a new downtown bridge and Nebraska and Iowa highway officials are investigating possible locations of the span.

Stocks Reach 3-Month High

New York (AP)—The stock market swept to its highest point on average in nearly 3 months Tuesday under the leadership of steel and chemical shares.

Brokers, traders and analysts alike were wondering whether the advance, coming as it did on Dec. 1, heralded the start of the traditional year-end rally. In 44 of the past 62 years, stocks have risen during December. It was noted that the advance, which added more than two billion dollars to the quoted value of all stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, provided what could be the kickoff.

The dollar advance is based on a rise of $1.60 in the Associated Press rise of 50 stocks, which closed at $22.60, the highest since Sept. 4, 1957, when the close was $22.30. The advance saw industrial up $3.30, rail up 30 cents and utilities up 20 cents.

Adding to Wall Street optimism was another good jump in trading volume, which rose to 1,000,000 shares from 7,670,000 Monday. Resumption of negotiations between industry and union for the upsurge of steel shares.

Analysts found nothing in the news to account for the chemical rally, although they said many investors regarded the group's shares as good buys.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks rose 1.34 points to 2,670.34. The New York Stock Exchange prices were mixed on volume of 1,000,000 compared with 1,510,000 Monday.

Government bonds were mostly steady. Volume amounted to $8,000,000 par value with $5,270,000 Monday.

Mrs. Moore Pays Last Visit To Family

Services Are Held For Slain Husband, Two Small Children

Osceola, Mo. (UPI)—Mrs. Betty Lou Moore, admitted killer of her husband and two small children, tried to embrace their bodies Tuesday when she was permitted a brief visit to a mortuary here.

When it was over, she was returned to the county jail at Harrisonville, Mo.

Funeral services for the 3 were held here later Tuesday with burial in a family plot at nearby Benton-Green Cemetery where Charles Moore, 25, a gas station attendant, and his slain children, David, 4, and Menty Janelle, 5, were buried beside Moore's mother.

The wife and mother charged with shooting her husband and two children to death last Friday night did not attend.

(Both Mr. and Mrs. Moore attended Union College in Lincoln prior to their marriage.)

Mrs. Moore, whose composure was shattered in a court appearance Monday and who seized and destroyed the formal complaint charging her with murder, was "fairly calm" in her final visit to her slain family, F. B. Goodrich of the Goodrich Funeral Home said.

"She cried and you might say she showed a great deal of emotion, but there was no hysterics," Goodrich said. "She touched them all gently, and tried to embrace them."

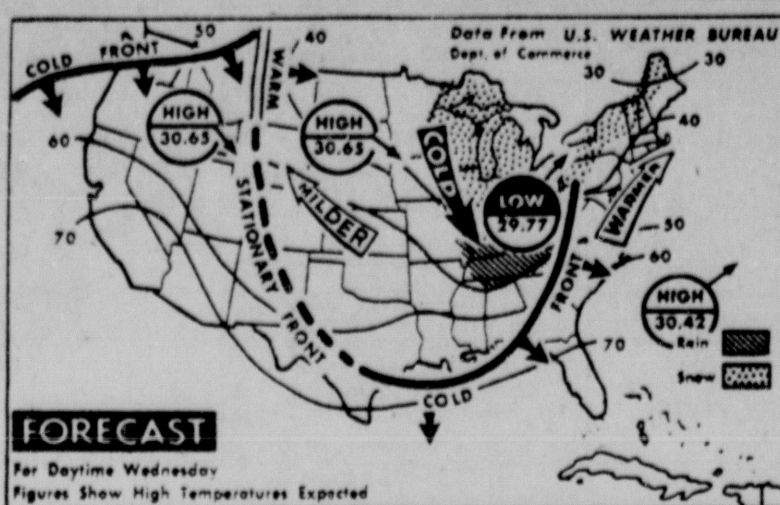

Mrs. Moore asked Goodrich to rearrange Menty's hair slightly, "pulling her bangs down a little bit" but made no other requests.

Mrs. Moore wore a navy blue dress which she had asked the sheriff's wife to press for her because it had become mused in the suitcase in which she had carried it to Grand Island, Neb. She called Grand Island officers and reported the killings at the family home in Belton, Mo., Saturday night.

No Reason Given

Mrs. Moore said she had driven to Grand Island after killing the 3 by firing close range shots at them with a pistol she had bought as a Christmas present for her husband.

She has not given police any reason for the slayings.

Snowy Weather Moving Eastward

Snow flurries are expected Wednesday in the northern Appalachians and the central Mississippi Valley. Rain mixed with snow will fall in the great Lakes region and the Ohio and Tennessee Valleys. It will be warmer in the Atlantic states and the Great Plains and cooler in the Ohio and Tennessee Valleys. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Scotts Bluff Reports 2nd Oil Discovery

Scottsbluff — A second oil well discovery in Scotts Bluff County was reported.

It is the Tom Vessels Jr.-Strain Drilling Co. No. 1 Burkey south west of Gering. A drill stem test was reported to have recovered 1,800 feet of oil.

The well is on land owned by M. L. Burkey.

The first discovery was the Vessels No. 1 State in the same area.

Architecture Awards To Be Revealed Here

Kansas Sent To Reformatory On Car Death Charge

Minden — Glenn L. Dobson, 30, Kansas City, Kan., in District Court was sentenced to 18 months to 3 years in the Men's Reformatory in Lincoln on charges of motor vehicle homicide.

Nebraska News

William H. Meier, Kearney County Attorney, filed the charge in connection with an accident last Aug. 8 in which Mrs. Phoebe A. Applebee of Alma was killed.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Highway 44 and a Kearney County road 9 miles south of Kearney when the car Mrs. Applebee was driving was struck by a car driven by Dobson, investigating officers said.

Gabriel Heatter Hails New Way To Hear With NOTHING in Either Ear

CHICAGO (Special)—An amazing new almost invisible way to hear again—a boon to folks who hesitate to use a hearing aid for fear of being stared at—was announced Sunday by Gabriel Heatter over the radio.

"Read a remarkable book that reveals exciting facts about hearing glasses," Heatter advised. "Discover how you may hear again with no receiver button, no tube, no mold in the ear, no cords.

Nobody would be aware you're hard of hearing!"

Heatter disclosed that Beltone's new way to hear through eye glasses—ideal for many moderate and conduction losses—enables people to stay actively happy in family, social, church and business life.

For the exciting FREE book sent in a plain wrapper, write: Dept 2-357, Beltone Hearing Aid Co., 2900 W. 36th St., Chicago 32.

More Control For Governor Said Needed

McCook — McCook Publisher Harry Strunk said Tuesday Gov. Ralph Brooks told him the state has hired two Washington attorneys in regard to a contemplated suit against Frontier Airlines only to find out the actions protested by the state have not been filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Strunk said Brooks charged the hiring of the attorneys by special assistant attorney general Rush Clarke was a case in which Clarke took action "without knowing anything about it."

The McCook Gazette publisher said Brooks brought up the matter to illustrate his contention that the governor needs more control over various departments of state government.

Strunk said Brooks remarks were:

"We have a special assistant attorney general appointed by the attorney general who has already selected two lawyers to represent Nebraska in the Frontier Airlines case."

"At the same time the director of aeronautics (Jack Obbink) has been building a case to present to the CAB in regard to Frontier."

"Now, I the governor, sent a telegram to the CAB protesting the action of Frontier. Imagine my amazement when I received a letter in reply to my wire to the effect that Frontier had not even filed an application to the CAB to curtail their service in Nebraska."

"The board (CAB) also read the news release of Frontier but officially knew nothing about it."

"So we now have two lawyers appointed by someone that doesn't know anything about it in a case that has never been formally presented to the CAB. This shows how the machinery of Nebraska government actually works."

Shickley Hunter Hurt In Mishap

Hastings — Leonard Gratopp of Shickley is recovering in a Hastings hospital from shotgun wounds received in a hunting accident near Hebron.

Gratopp suffered wounds in his hands, shoulders and legs and two pellets in an eye when he was reportedly accidentally shot.
